Pentagon Seeks To Spike New Red Propaganda

Defense Chief Tells How Soviet Planes Shadow U.S. Fleet

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon's announcement that long range Soviet reconnaissance jets flew over four U.S. Navy carriers at sea was intended to disarm any Soviet propaganda bomb before it was dropped, informed sources said today.

These sources indicated Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara sought to beat the Soviets to the punch—for example to any claim that the flights were undetected when he told his news conference Thursday of such overflights in the North Atlantic and North Pacific during the past month.

Another possible aim could have been to neutralize Soviet complaints that U.S. warplanes had buzzed and trailed Soviet ships on the high seas.

In any event, questions about the vulnerability of carriers were raised by McNamara's disclosure that four heavy Soviet reconnaissance bombers flew thousands of miles from the Soviet Union — straight to the 75,000-ton carrier Forrestal southeast of the Azores last Friday.

Chance for Arms Race End Dims

WASHINGTON (AP)—The best chance the Soviet Union and the United States may ever have to end the nuclear arm race now appears to be collapsing under the weight of a new disarmament deadlock.

This, at least, is the grim view of the current state of East-West arms control negotiations held by some high officials responsible for U.S. policy.

It is a view subject to sharp dispute.

A serious question can be raised as to whether any real chance of accord between Moscow and Washington has existed since the start of the cold war—or will exist.

Nuclear Arms Ban Parley Near Collapse

GENEVA (AP)—The Soviet Union slammed the door today on any detailed negotiations on a treaty to ban nuclear weapons tests. Talks seemed on the verge of collapse.

U.S. Delegate William C. Foster prepared to leave for Washington. A U.S. source said, "At the moment, he can accomplish more in Washington than in Geneva."

Said Foster, "We want to negotiate. Unfortunately we have found that thus far the Soviet Union does not."

Soviet Ambassador Semyon K. Tsarapkin, filling in for his absent chief, Vasily V. Kuznetsov said the Soviet Union wanted no part of talks on the details of a test ban treaty unless the West accepts the Kremlin's offer of two or three on-site inspections against nuclear cheating a year.

Foster expressed doubt Russia could monitor all American nuclear tests. He was arguing for the need of cheat-proof controls over a treaty banning nuclear tests.

U.S. Warns Reds in Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has served notice the United States will not tolerate use of Soviet troops to suppress an uprising in Cuba.

Nor will the United States tolerate use of these troops in other Western Hemisphere countries, McNamara told a news conference Thursday.

He did not indicate what action the United States would take if the situation arose. Shortly before McNamara spoke to newsmen, word was received in Washington that perhaps 100 to 300 Soviet soldiers left Cuba aboard the luxury liner Baltika in the past few days. Officials said four other Soviet ships, capable of carrying 8,000 to 9,000 soldiers, are believed heading for Cuba.

Phone Calls Add To Mystery

Slaying of Chicago City Official Probed

CHICAGO (AP) — Two strange telephone calls, police say, have added to the mystery surrounding the slaying of Alderman Benjamin F. Lewis, Negro Democratic political leader.

Lewis, 53, was found face down on the floor of his office Thursday with three bullet wounds in the head and his hands handcuffed. Four expended 32-caliber cartridges were nearby.

Police said one of the telephone calls suggested Lewis had an unwanted caller the night he was slain. They said the other indicated an emotionally unstable gunman may have been involved.

Lewis one of six Negroes on the City Council of 50 aldermen, was slain less than 36 hours after his re-election in the 24th Ward by a 12-1 margin to a second four-year term on the council.

Investigators said they were without a substantial theory in the killing. John Ascher, an assistant deputy police superintendent, termed the slaying a professional job.

One of the telephone calls stirred quick action when it came to the main police switchboard about an hour after a janitor discovered the alderman's body.

"I've got Lewis," the caller, a man, was quoted as saying, "and now I'm going to get Biggs."

Protection was set up at the home of Robert Biggs, 58, a Negro who was the unsuccessful Democratic candidate for alderman in Tuesday's balloting in the 29th Ward.

The second telephone call was described by James Gilbert, a police sergeant who said he called Wednesday night to discuss a personal matter.

Gilbert said Lewis sounded distracted by something and cut him off abruptly with, "I'm sorry, I have to hang up now." This is the last known report of a conversation with Lewis.

2 Springfield Thugs Nabbed

SPRINGFIELD, (AP) — Two of three armed men who robbed a branch of the Lagonda National Bank here Jan. 31 have been arrested in Los Angeles, Calif., the FBI and police announced today.

The two in custody, expected to be returned to Ohio when extradition proceedings are complete, were listed as Paul Eddie House, 23, and Ronald Edward White 24, both of near Yellow Springs in adjoining Greene County.

Authorities are still seeking a third man who participated in the holdup. Both House and White are under indictments for bank robbery.

The three men entered the branch bank in Southern Village Shopping Center while five employees and three customers were there. Two of the gunmen pointed revolvers at the eight persons and threatened them while the third rifled the cash drawers of approximately $4,776.

Peanut King Single For Seventh Time

CINCINNATI (AP)—Le Cameron Trent, the peanut king of Loveland, is single again — for the seventh time.

Trent's sixth marriage ended Thursday when Mrs. Ivy M. Trent 56, a native of Skirling Mains in Scotland, obtained an uncontested divorce under an order by Domestic Relations Court Judge Paul George. She charged Trent with gross neglect.

The last three of Trent's wives were natives of Great Britain. The 72-year-old peanut vending machine operator was married to and divorced from three American women before his first trans-Atlantic romance a decade ago.

Ohio Weather Is Miserable

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Miserable weather conditions of snow, ice, freezing rain and sleet over much of the state marked the first day of March in Ohio.

The bad weather appeared to be traveling in two bands—one of heavy snow moving from the southwest to the northeast through Dayton, Delaware and heading toward Mount Vernon and the other band of snow, freezing rain and sleet moving from Cincinnati toward Chillicothe, Circleville and Zanesville toward Bellaire.

Heaviest snowfall reported as of 7 a.m. Friday was five inches at the Cox Municipal Airport at Vandalia near Dayton. Cincinnati reported rain, sleet and freezing rain and there was an inch of slush on the ground at Chillicothe and Circleville. In Columbus a two-inch snowfall turned to freezing rain during the early morning. There were three inches of new snow at Delaware.

It began snowing in Cleveland after 7 a.m., and more snow was falling at Findlay where a depth of two inches was reported.

The snow through the central counties is expected to be mixed with sleet and freezing rains.

One result of the heavy snowfall and freezing rain which fell in the Dayton area was a 13-vehicle accident on the Ohio 4-U.S. 69 intersection near Ohio 444. No injuries were reported but there was some property damage. Two semi-trailers were involved.

The snow through the central counties is expected to be mixed with sleet and freezing rain during the day, changing back to snow during the early afternoon. A temporary end of the snow and sleet will take place this evening, the weather bureau said. Up to four inches of snow is indicated for the southern and central counties.

March Arrives Like Icy Lion

4 Inches or More Of Snow Expected

March arrived today "like a lion," bringing rain, sleet, snow and more rain!

Heavy snow warnings with freezing rain were forecast for this area today and tonight with an accumulation of four inches or more. Some parts of west-central Ohio were expecting eight inches or more of snow. The "white stuff" was to end tonight with temperatures dropping to 18-26 degrees.

Local law enforcement agencies warned motorists to drive with extreme caution. They noted that all road and highway conditions in this area are hazardous.

The Pickaway County Sheriff's department reported two minor accidents caused by the icy roads early today.

Mrs. Wanda Jane McAfee, 25, of Meade, lost control of her automobile while attempting to pass a county truck equipped with a snow plow. Mrs. McAfee's car left the road, struck a barn and veered across the road before coming to a halt.

She received a bump on the head and was referred to a physician by Sheriff Walton W. Spangler. Extensive damage was inflicted on the front of her vehicle.

The second mishap was a two-car collision on Pontious Road, near Knollwood Village. A car driven by Mrs. Anna Ruth Anderson, 46, Route 4, collided with an auto driven by Mrs. Louise Smith, 37, of Knollwood Village.

No charges were filed by Deputy Sheriff Warren Straley, investigating officer. Deputy Straley reported the icy condition of the road caused the mishap.

Speaking of the weather, one local observer said if there's any truth in the old saying of "March coming in like a lion and going out like a lamb" we're "bound to have nice weather later in the month."

Police Chief Shot To Death, Son Is Seriously Wounded

BEAVER, Pa. (AP) — Police Chief Walter Halista of Harmony Twp. in western Pennsylvania was shot to death in his home late Thursday night, and his 15-year-old son was seriously wounded.

Russell Meskow, Beaver County detective chief, said details of the shootings were vague, and the only indication of what happened came from the youth, Ronald.

Meskow quoted Ronald as saying he was in the bathroom when Halista, 44, received an unidentified caller. A shot rang out, Meskow said Ronald related, and the youth ran into the room where he was fired upon.

Young Halista, wounded in the chest and left arm, underwent surgery at a hospital.

Meskow said Halista's wife and another son, Walter Jr., 18, discovered the shootings upon their arrival home.

GOP Measure Seeks Speed Limit Boost

COLUMBUS Ohio (AP)—A bill that would increase the speed limits on Ohio highways from five to 10 miles with a top of 70 m.p.h. is being proposed by 10 Republican state representatives.

The bill proposing increases in six different limits was filed today with the Ohio House clerk by the representatives, headed by Rep. Arthur H. Katterheirich, R-Auglaize. It is scheduled for formal introduction to the House Monday night.

The limits proposed in the bill would be 70 m.p.h. day and 60 m.p.h. at night (now 60 and 50 unless posted for 65 for controlled access highways, expressways and freeways outside municipalities, for autos and small trucks; 55 m.p.h. (now 50) at all times for trucks and tractors weighing more than 4,000 pounds empty.

On controlled-access highways, expressways and freeways within municipalities, 60 m.p.h. (now 50).

On other highways outside of municipalities, 65 m.p.h. daytime, 55 at night (now 60 and 50); with a limit of 50 m.p.h. at all times for trucks and tractors weighing more than 4,000 pounds empty, remaining unchanged.

The bill does not seek to set any minimum speed for controlled access highways, expressways and freeways. A 35 m.p.h. minimum is posted on some expressways.

Prop Kills Stewardess

BOSTON (AP)—An off-duty airline stewardess, rushing to catch a flight to Newark, N.J., was killed Thursday night when she ran into a whirling propeller of a four-engine DC7 at Logan International Airport.

Witnesses said the stewardess, Miss Barbara Hill, 30, rushed from the end of a loading platform and ran toward the plane, about to take off for Newark with 24 passengers and a crew of five.

Two attendants tried to stop the 5-foot-6-inch brunette when she started toward the plane.

But she apparently failed to hear their cries and a moment later as witnesses watched, horror struck, she ran into the propeller.

Local Poor Relief Fund Also Trimmed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Welfare Director Denver White issued an order today to cut back payments in two public assistance programs to levels prior to increases made late last year by the administration of former Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

White said he also ordered a 10 per cent slash in the 50 per cent state matching of local poor relief funds.

Notifying all county welfare and city relief directors, White ordered cuts of slightly more than $3 per person per month in aid for the disabled and about $2.25 per person per month in aid for dependent children.

The cutbacks are due to the state's dire financial condition and deficiencies in funds for the programs, the director said.

Cuts in the two aid programs will be effective April 1 because March checks already are made out.

The 10 per cent slash in poor relief matching is effective today. Reimbursement of local poor relief matching is on a post-payment basis but local agencies will have to make adjustments during March.

Canary said the DiSalle administration increased the aid for the blind and disabled last October and aid for dependent children in December.

"The increases," he said, "were given in face of the fact that there was going to be a deficiency in funds (for the programs). The appropriations to the welfare departments were being overspent."

Canary predicted there still will be "a very substantial deficiency in all these programs despite the cutbacks. We still will have to ask the legislature for about $10 million (Continued on Page 2)

Circleville and Pickaway County now has a father-son combination devoted to law enforcement.

Starting his initial service today as a city policeman was Larry Pontious, 22, of 330 E. Union St. His father, William Pontious, Route 3, is a Pickaway County Sheriff's deputy.

Young Pontious was assigned to the day shift by Police Chief Robert Temple. He will work this tour for a period, move on for a short hitch with second trick officers, then be regularly assigned to the third shift.

The new city officer previously was employed by the Cussins & Fearn Co. He attended Jackson Twp. High School.

HE IS MARRIED to the former Carol Cassidy. They have three children.

The elder Pontious has been a deputy since 1960 when Walton W. Spangler took command of the sheriff's reins here.

The deputy previously was employed at the Circleville Oil Co. He is the father of four sons and two daughters and operates a farm in Jackson Twp.

Patrolman Pontious, hired as a special officer, will bolster the staff of the below strength department. A vacancy was created when Patrolman Donald Adams resigned earlier this month.

Ohio Weather Is Miserable

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Miserable weather conditions of snow, ice, freezing rain and sleet over much of the state marked the first day of March in Ohio.

The bad weather appeared to be traveling in two bands—one of heavy snow moving from the southwest to the northeast through Dayton, Delaware and heading toward Mount Vernon and the other band of snow, freezing rain and sleet moving from Cincinnati toward Chillicothe, Circleville and Zanesville toward Bellaire.

Heaviest snowfall reported as of 7 a.m. Friday was five inches at the Cox Municipal Airport at Vandalia near Dayton. Cincinnati reported rain, sleet and freezing rain and there was an inch of slush on the ground at Chillicothe and Circleville. In Columbus a two-inch snowfall turned to freezing rain during the early morning. There were three inches of new snow at Delaware.

It began snowing in Cleveland after 7 a.m., and more snow was falling at Findlay where a depth of two inches was reported.

The snow through the central counties is expected to be mixed with sleet and freezing rains.

One result of the heavy snow-

fall and freezing rain which fell in the Dayton area was a 13-vehicle accident on the Ohio 4-U.S. 69 intersection near Ohio 444. No injuries were reported but there was some property damage. Two semitrailers were involved.

The snow through the central counties is expected to be mixed with sleet and freezing rain during the day, changing back to snow during the early afternoon. A temporary end of the snow and sleet will take place this evening, the weather bureau said. Up to four inches of snow is indicated for the southern and central counties.

Notifying all county welfare and city relief directors, White ordered cuts of slightly more than $3 per person per month in aid for the disabled and about $2.25 per person per month in aid for dependent children.

The cutbacks are due to the state's dire financial condition and deficiencies in funds for the programs, the director said.

Cuts in the two aid programs will be effective April 1 because March checks already are made out.

The 10 per cent slash in poor relief matching is effective today. Reimbursement of local poor relief matching is on a post-payment basis but local agencies will have to make adjustments during March.

Canary said the DiSalle administration increased the aid for the blind and disabled last October and aid for dependent children in December.

"The increases," he said, "were given in face of the fact that there was going to be a deficiency in funds (for the programs). The appropriations to the welfare departments were being overspent."

Canary predicted there still will be "a very substantial deficiency in all these programs despite the cutbacks. We still will have to ask the legislature for about $10 million (Continued on Page 2) die this week, will be spared for 8 to 12 months from the lethal injections ordered in the will.

Pennsylvania's Gov. William Scranton directed the state's attorney general, Walter E. Alesandrini to see a way to save the silky-haired dogs permanently.

Miss Capers' death-order was intended as an act of love for her two beautiful pets. She wanted them killed after her death, because she was afraid they would no longer get the care and love she gave them.

Among the many persons offering to provide a new home for the setters is kennel owner Thomas Miller, who knew Miss Capers for years, helped raise and train the two dogs, and was entrusted with their care when Miss Capers entered the hospital Jan. 9.

Miller has been flooded with telephone calls—some from as far away as California, Florida and Kansas—from people offering to take the dogs or to contribute money. Neither interests Miller who wants to keep them himself.

Father-Son Combination Now City, County Law Enforcers

LIKE FATHER, LIKE SON — Assigned as a Circleville policeman today was Larry Pontious (left). On the right is his father, William Pontious, a deputy with the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department. The elder lawman holds seniority, having joined the deputy staff in 1960.

Circleville and Pickaway County now has a father-son combination devoted to law enforcement. Starting his initial service today as a city policeman was Larry Pontious, 22, of 330 E. Union St. His father, William Pontious, Route 3, is a Pickaway County Sheriff's deputy.

Young Pontious was assigned to the day shift by Police Chief Robert Temple. He will work this tour for a period, move on for a short hitch with second trick officers, then be regularly assigned to the third shift.

The new city officer previously was employed by the Cussins & Fearn Co. He attended Jackson Twp. High School.

HE IS MARRIED to the former Carol Cassidy. They have three children.

The elder Pontious has been a deputy since 1960 when Walton W. Spangler took command of the sheriff's reins here.

The deputy previously was employed at the Circleville Oil Co. He is the father of four sons and two daughters and operates a farm in Jackson Twp.

Patrolman Pontious, hired as a special officer, will bolster the staff of the below strength department. A vacancy was created when Patrolman Donald Adams resigned earlier this month.

Local Poor Relief Fund Also Trimmed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Welfare Director Denver White issued an order today to cut back payments in two public assistance programs to levels prior to increases made late last year by the administration of former Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

White said he also ordered a 10 per cent slash in the 50 per cent state matching of local poor relief funds.

Notifying all county welfare and city relief directors, White ordered cuts of slightly more than $3 per person per month in aid for the disabled and about $2.25 per person per month in aid for dependent children.

The cutbacks are due to the state's dire financial condition and deficiencies in funds for the programs, the director said.

Cuts in the two aid programs will be effective April 1 because March checks already are made out.

The 10 per cent slash in poor relief matching is effective today. Reimbursement of local poor relief matching is on a post-payment basis but local agencies will have to make adjustments during March.

Canary said the DiSalle administration increased the aid for the blind and disabled last October and aid for dependent children in December.

"The increases," he said, "were given in face of the fact that there was going to be a deficiency in funds (for the programs). The appropriations to the welfare departments were being overspent."

Canary predicted there still will be "a very substantial deficiency in all these programs despite the cutbacks. We still will have to ask the legislature for about $10 million (Continued on Page 2)

GOP Measure Seeks Speed Limit Boost

COLUMBUS Ohio (AP)—A bill that would increase the speed limits on Ohio highways from five to 10 miles with a top of 70 m.p.h. is being proposed by 10 Republican state representatives.

The bill proposing increases in six different limits was filed today with the Ohio House clerk by the representatives, headed by Rep. Arthur H. Katterheinrich, R-Auglaize. It is scheduled for formal introduction to the House Monday night.

The limits proposed in the bill would be 70 m.p.h. day and 60 m.p.h. at night (now 60 and 50 unless posted for 65 for controlled access highways, expressways and freeways outside municipalities, for autos and small trucks; 55 m.p.h. (now 50) at all times for trucks and tractors weighing more than 4,000 pounds empty.

On controlled - access highways, expressways and freeways within municipalities, 60 m.p.h. (now 50).

On other highways outside of municipalities, 65 m.p.h. daytime, 55 at night (now 60 and 50); with a limit of 50 m.p.h. at all times for trucks and tractors weighing more than 4,000 pounds empty, remaining unchanged.

The bill does not seek to set any minimum speed for controlled access highways, expressways and freeways. A 35 m.p.h. minimum is posted on some expressways.

Prop Kills Stewardess

BOSTON (AP)—An off-duty airline stewardess, rushing to catch a flight to Newark, N.J., was killed Thursday night when she ran into a whirling propeller of a four-engine DC7 at Logan International Airport.

Witnesses said the stewardess, Miss Barbara Hill, 30, rushed from the end of a loading platform and ran toward the plane, about to take off for Newark with 24 passengers and a crew of five.

Two attendants tried to stop the 5-foot-6-inch brunette when she started toward the plane.

But she apparently failed to hear their cries and a moment later as witnesses watched, horror struck, she ran into the propeller.

Work Relief Bill Backed

State Welfare Chief Approves of Measure

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Denver White, state welfare director, and his assistant, Robert Canary, have given their support to a bill to require able-bodied poor relief clients to work on public work projects.

The two, with Ross County welfare director Byron Eby, and Clark County director Ralph Foster, testified in favor of the bill before the Ohio Senate State Government Committee.

The bill is sponsored by Sen. Roy Gardner, R-Mansfield.

White told the committee the total poor relief load in Ohio increased from $19 million in 1952 to $62 million last year. In November of 1962, he added, Ohio had the second largest poor relief load in the nation, passed only by Pennsylvania. The number of poor relief cases increased from 35,000 in December to 40,000 last month, White asserted.

White said there were about 19,000 employables on Ohio relief rolls in December and of that number only about 6,000 were able to be put to work.

He said he believes the requirement to work would reduce poor relief chiseling and help to curtail relief costs in Ohio.

Adam Kurpiel, Montgomery County welfare director, said he favors the work requirement in the bill but opposes a proposed shift in residence requirements from a county to a state basis for relief eligibility. The other witnesses backed the proposed residence change.

Present law requires a year's residence to qualify for relief in a county. Gardner's bill would make a year's residence in the state adequate to qualify for relief in any county.

White House Bomb Shelter Modernized

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House bomb shelter is being modernized. The cost is estimated at about $500,000.

Andrew T. Hatcher, assistant press secretary, confirmed Wednesday that the work of modernizing the bomb shelter to include a modern communications system is well under way.

The underground shelter was first built during World War II when Franklin D. Roosevelt was president. It was improved during the administration of Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Kurdish Chief Readies New Iraq Violence

NORADIN, Northern Iraq (AP)—Mullah Mustafa Barzani, leader of the Kurdish revolt in northern Iraq, says he will order his warriors back into battle against the new Iraqi regime unless the tribesmen receive self rule quickly.

Speaking in Russian, the chief said in an interview at his headquarters in the mountains of Northern Iraq that the overthrow of Premier Abdul Karim Kassem Feo, 8 was the direct result of the 18-month Kurdish war against the Baghdad regime.

"A similar, if not worse, fate will befall anyone who opposes the establishment of an autonomous Kurdish regime," said the Moscow-educated leader.

Barzani, 60, said he ordered a cease-fire when Kassem was overthrown and killed, in order to give the new Baghdad government a chance to declare its intentions on the Kurdish issue.

"I gave them 10 days. Those days are over. I am not prepared to wait indefinitely," said Barzani, fondling a long Kurdish dagger.

Barzani expressed impatience over the delay in getting word from his special emissary, Jalal Talibani who went to Baghdad last week to negotiate with leaders of the new government.

(Talibani said in Baghdad Thursday that he was hopeful that an agreement with the new government will be reached "within this week.")

AMA Backs JFK's Mental Health Plan

CHICAGO (AP)—The American Medical Association, which is firmly opposed to President Kennedy's proposed medical program for the elderly, spoke approvingly today of his mental health program.

The spokesman in this instance is Dr. Gerald D. Dorman of New York, an AMA trustee. His forum was the annual conference of State Mental Health Representatives.

Dr. Dorman said the Kennedy mental health program, announced Feb. 5, agrees with basic recommendations made by the AMA last summer.

He said both programs stress comprehensive care of mental patients at the community level rather than in big, distant state institutions.

"Community centers will supply what has been a missing link in the physician's responsibility for patients with emotional disorders," Dr. Dorman said.

Both the Kennedy administration and AMA proposals call for matching grants to the states from the federal government for building community mental health facilities.

Dr. Dorman said President Kennedy also proposes that services at the community centers be financed in the same manner as other medical and hospital costs—individual fees, private insurance, voluntary contributions and state and local aid.

Ohio Solon Raps Kentucky Project

WASHINGTON (AP)—The proposed Devil's Jump Dam ran into stiff opposition from a member of a House public works subcommittee Thursday and drew strong support from a large delegation from Kentucky.

Rep. William H. Harsha, R-Ohio, member of the flood control subcommittee considering the Kentucky-Tennessee project, contended it would cost much more than the $151 million estimated by Army Engineers.

Harsha then quoted the administrator of the Southeastern Power Administration as having testified two years ago that his agency knew little about the future power markets for the project. The marketing area would include Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, Illinois and possibly Pennsylvania, Harsha said.

deficiency appropriation." He estimated the cutbacks will mean a reduction of about $2.5 million in public assistance costs to the state between now and July 1, the end of the current fiscal year. The 10 per cent reduction in poor relief matching will mean about $500,000 a month, he said.

And in the meantime, Donald D. Cook director of the Ohio Department of Liquor Control, made a move today to crack down on distiller representatives doing business with the department.

He advised the representatives that they "are not to give any gratuities of any description to any employee of the department of liquor control," and that this would include distilled spirits, lunches, dinners, social events, tickets to athletic contests, etc.

Cook said the representatives had also been advised:

That any violation of the order will result in the dismissal of the department employee who accepts such gratuities and will result in the delisting of any company that so violates the rule.

That the representatives are not to roam through the department buildings and contact divisions "promiscuously," but that if they have business with any division they are to contact the supervisor.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Today is Friday, March 1, the 60th day of 1963. There are 305 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this day in 1964, history's second hydrogen-fusion test took place in the Marshall Islands. The explosion by the United States was 600 to 700 times greater than the atomic bomb which killed 60,000 persons in Hiroshima and hastened the end of World War II.

On this day: In 1780, the Pennsylvania Legislature passed the first act to abolish slavery.

In 1887, the U. S. Army's Hospital Corps was organized.

In 1932, Charles Lindbergh Jr. was kidnapped from his parents' home at Hopewell, N.J.

In 1945, American troops captured the twin German industrial cities of Muenchen-Gladbach and Reydt during World War II.

In 1952, the North Sea island of Helgoland was returned to Germany which had surrendered it to the Allies in 1945.

Today's birthday: Austrian painter Oskar Kokoschka is 77. Theatrical producer Herman Levin is 55.

Thought for today: All human things are subject to decay, and when fate summons, monarchs must obey—John Dryden.

Banks Superintendent Denied Unused Leave

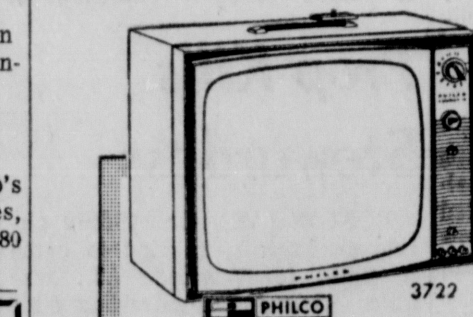

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The superintendent of banks is a state officer, not a state employee, and is not entitled to compensation for earned, but unused vacation leave, Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe said in an opinion given today at the request of Commerce Director Warren R. Chase.

In the same opinion, Saxbe ruled that the chief of the Division of Securities and the superintendent of building and loan associations are state employees and are entitled to such compensation.

Ex-PUCO Aide Handed Suspended Sentence

MARION, Ohio (AP)—A former investigator for the Public Utilities Commission has received a six months suspended prison sentence and $1,000 fine for defrauding the General Telephone Co.

Charles F. Parshall, 55, of Marion was accused on 16 counts of using non-existent credit card numbers in making long distance calls. The telephone company said this was the first such prosecution under a law which became effective in September 1961.

Store Sales In Cleveland Continue Dip

CLEVELAND (AP)—Department store sales in Cleveland the past two months have slumped below the corresponding year-ago level.

The Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland reported today that sales for the week ended Feb. 23 were 21.1 below the similar 1962 period and the lowest so far this year. Four-week volume was off 13.4 per cent from a year ago and sales for the year to date were behind 10.9 per cent.

A bank economist attributed the lagging sales to the newspaper strike—now in its 92nd day—and a long siege of bad weather.

Sales declines also were noted last week in the metropolitan area, which includes Lake and Cuyahoga counties. Sales were reported 8.8 per cent below the similar year-ago period, but four-week volume equaled last year's figures.

Ohio below Par On Education Investments

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio ranks slightly below the national average in personal income spent for public education, according to a survey report issued by the National Education Association.

The report, compiled by the NEA research division, shows that Ohio, with $422.45 spent on current expenditures for each pupil in average daily attendance in elementary and secondary schools, or 4.5 per cent of $9,345 in personal income for every school-age child, is just under the 4.7 per cent national average.

In personal income per school-age child, Ohio ranks 14th, while in expenditures per pupil, the state is 22nd in the nation.

New York ranks first in both personal income per pupil and money spent per school-age child. Next in line ahead of Ohio in personal income per student are Nevada, Connecticut, Delaware, New Jersey, California, Illinois, Massachusetts, Alaska, Rhode Island, Maryland, Missouri, Pennsylvania, Colorado and Washington.

Leading Ohio in expenditures per school-age child, in addition to New York, are the above-mentioned states except Missouri, plus Oregon, Michigan, Wisconsin, Arizona, Wisconsin, Wyoming, Minnesota and Montana.

Electric Blanket Blamed for Fire

The Mt. Sterling Fire Department doused a minor blaze yesterday in the home of Virgil Boyzel, Route 3, Mt. Sterling.

The fire started in a bed and was thought to have been caused by a defective electric blanket. Damage was estimated at $100. Deputy George Linder investigated for the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department.

Deaths

MR. MILTON A. LEIST

Mr. Milton A. Leist, 81, died 4:40 a. m. today at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Mark DeLong, 662 E. Mound St.

He was born May 26, 1881, in Pickaway County, the son of Sylvester and Clara Leist.

Mr. Leist, a retired farmer, was preceded in death by his wife, Stella Heffner Leist, Oct. 19, 1945.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Mark DeLong; Mrs. Irvin Reid, 827 Pershing Drive; Mrs. Pearl DeLong, Lancaster; seven grandchildren; and 12 great-grandchildren.

Services will be 1:30 p. m. Monday at the Deffenbaugh Funeral Home with the Rev. G. H. Niswender officiating. Burial will be in Forest Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home beginning 9 a. m. Sunday.

MRS. GOLDIE W. NEFF

Mrs. Goldie Wilkinson Neff, 47, a former resident of Circleville, died early today in University Hospital, Columbus, after a lengthy illness.

Mrs. Neff was born in Circleville Sept. 23, 1915, the daughter of William and Bertha Wilkinson.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Barbara Doersam, with whom she made her residence and Mrs. Beverly Doten, both of Columbus; four brothers, Robert Wilkinson, Sr., 576 E. Main St.; Frank, 209 N. Pickaway St.; William, E. Main St.; and Lyman, Denver, Colo.

Funeral arrangements are being completed by the Evans Funeral Home, Livingston Ave., Columbus.

Ohio Assembly Takes Break For Weekend

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio legislators adjourned last Thursday for a three-day weekend break, but not before tossing a dozen additional bills into the hopper and voting passage of five routine measures.

Proposed legislation would allow public employees to organize and bargain collectively, boost the pay of elected county officials, reorganize three divisions in the Agriculture Department and expand Wildlife Council control of commercial fishing.

A sixth appointment to the Ohio Higher Education Assistance Commission, which guarantees student loans made by banks, was confirmed by the Senate. Newest appointee is Wayne B. Brewer of Findlay, president of Cooper Tire and Rubber Co.

The commission, dormant since the Senate last month rejected former administration appointments, was scheduled to meet today. While active, the commission had guaranteed more than 1,700 loans exceeding $1 million.

Ex-Indiana Chief Due To Address Ohioans

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Harold W. Handley, former governor of Indiana, is scheduled to be among speakers next Thursday at the Ohio Chamber of Commerce's biennial legislative conference.

The program also includes a dinner Wednesday night for members of the 105th General Assembly and a discussion of pending legislative measures affecting Ohio's business climate.

Hill Named to Ag Post

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Dr. David A. Hill of Columbus has been named chief of the Division of Animal Industry in the Department of Agriculture. The division administers animal disease control and eradication programs.

Columbus Man Convicted on OMVI Charge

Clyde J. Smith, 29, Columbus, convicted of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicants by Circleville Municipal Court Judge Sterling Lamb, today was fined $200 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail.

Judge Lamb also suspended Smith's driving license for a six-month period. He was cited into court by the State Highway Patrol.

Of the eight motorists cited into court by the OSP for speeding 65 miles per hour in a 50 mile zone, six signed waivers and paid $15 fines levied and two forfeited $24 bonds.

Roy E. Dunaway 32, Wellington and Lynn F. Baum, 21, Canal Winchester forfeited bonds.

Paying fines were: Richard J. Newlin, 34, Columbus; Alvin N. Price, Chillicothe; Robert A. Oney, 29, Jackson; Bernadine Minshall, 56, 934 S. Pickaway St.; David C. Shaffer, 24, Columbus; Ivan G. Kimery, 30, Taylor, Mich.

Stocks Show Firmer Tone

NEW YORK (AP)—Stock market prices showed a firmer tone early this afternoon after two days of sizable losses.

Gains and losses of key issues were generally fractional. Brokers said there was no one thing to blame for the market's generally unsatisfactory performance this week.

Some Wall Streeters believed the market had finally entered a period of consolidation after its extended advance.

Motors, steels, metals and rails were higher. Utilities, oils and airlines were mixed.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was ahead .2 at 252.1 with industrials up .8, rails unchanged and utilities off .1.

There was little in the business news to nudge prices either way.

RFK Disavows Eye On '68 Presidency

WASHINGTON (AP)—Robert F. Kennedy looked out the window of his chauffeur-driven limousine and said he does not plan to run for president in 1968.

"Emphatically not," he said. In his voice was a note of plainness, a plea that his answer be believed.

There was also the shrug of resignation from a man who, as attorney general and brother of the President, knows every word he utters for public print will be closely examined — by political opponents for campaign ammunition, by foreign diplomats for a hint of what the administration is really thinking, and by reporters who consider him the most valuable news source outside the White House itself.

This interview, held during a ride from a hotel speaking engagement to his Justice Department office was one of a recent series given by the attorney general to The Associated Press in an attempt to answer these questions:

1. Is he being groomed to assume the presidency when John F. Kennedy leaves office?
2. How true are current Washington rumors that, in preparation for a run at the presidency, he will be named secretary of state, with Dean Rusk leaving that post to become ambassador to the United Nations and Adlai E. Stevenson being eased out of the administration?

3. How does he define the unusual role he plays in government affairs?

In brief, these are Robert Kennedy's answers:

1. The presidency: "Absolutely not. I don't even think about being president. I know that may sound funny to some people, but that's the truth."

2. Secretary of state: "Completely ridiculous and untrue."

3. His role: "I try to do the best job I can running the Department of Justice as attorney general. It's a very important job. Sure, the President gets my advice on matters outside the department, just as he does from lots of others. But he weighs it, just he does the advice of the others, and then makes the decisions himself."

Kennedy and his closely knit group of associates in the Justice

Department sometimes seem impatiently mystified by any suggestion that he has any political ambition at all.

"I'm out of politics," he still says, as he did shortly before he became attorney general.

The recent (Esquire) magazine article by Gore Vidal—in which Robert Kennedy was tabbed as the likeliest Democratic presidential candidate in 1968 and was described as possessing "vindictiveness and a simpleness about human motives"—has become a subject of good-natured ribbing among the attorney general's associates.

To them he is a basically shy, soft-spoken individual, informal but courteous in human relationships, often exuberantly funny but usually solemn under the weight of heavy responsibility.

Besides his unofficial role as closest confidant to the President and his official post as attorney general, he wears more hats than any other man in the government.

He is a member of the National Security Council, chairman of the President's Committee on Juvenile Delinquency and Youth Crime, head of the White House Conference on Narcotics and Drug Abuse, and chairman of the President's Special Study Group on Counter-Insurgency.

And if that isn't enough to keep him busy, of course, there are the weekend hikes, skating parties, and other forms of relaxation to fill the spare time of a working man with a wife, seven children and another on the way.

Pair Arrested For Auto Theft

Two Columbus juveniles were apprehended last night by State Patrolmen of local Post No. 65 on charges of auto larceny.

Patrolmen said the duo was taken into custody north of South Bloomfield in an auto stolen in the vicinity of Ohio State University, Columbus.

The juvenile offenders were released to the custody of their parents. Patrolmen said Franklin County authorities will act on the case.

Work Relief Bill Backed

State Welfare Chief Approves of Measure

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Denver White, state welfare director, and his assistant, Robert Canary, have given their support to a bill to require able-bodied poor relief clients to work on public work projects.

The two, with Ross County Welfare director Byron Eby, and Clark County director Ralph Foster, testified in favor of the bill before the Ohio Senate State Government Committee.

The bill is sponsored by Sen. Roy Gardner, R-Mansfield.

White told the committee the total poor relief load in Ohio increased from $19 million in 1952 to $62 million last year. In November of 1962, he added, Ohio had the second largest poor relief load in the nation, passed only by Pennsylvania. The number of poor relief cases increased from 35,000 in December to 40,000 last month, White asserted.

White said there were about 19,000 employables on Ohio relief rolls in December and of that number only about 6,000 were able to be put to work.

He said he believes the requirement to work would reduce poor relief chiseling and help to curtail relief costs in Ohio.

Adam Kurpiel, Montgomery County welfare director, said he favors the work requirement in the bill but opposes a proposed shift in residence requirements from a county to a state basis for relief eligibility. The other witnesses backed the proposed residence change.

Present law requires a year's residence to qualify for relief in a county. Gardner's bill would make a year's residence in the state adequate to qualify for relief in any county.

White House Bomb Shelter Modernized

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House bomb shelter is being modernized. The cost is estimated at about $500,000.

Andrew T. Hatcher, assistant press secretary, confirmed Wednesday that the work of modernizing the bomb shelter to include a modern communications system is well under way.

The underground shelter was first built during World War II when Franklin D. Roosevelt was president. It was improved during the administration of Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Kurdish Chief Readies New Iraq Violence

NORADIN, Northern Iraq (AP)

—Mullah Mustafa Barzani, leader of the Kurdish revolt in northern Iraq, says he will order his warriors back into battle against the new Iraqi regime unless the tribesmen receive self rule quickly.

Speaking in Russian, the chief said in an interview at his headquarters in the mountains of Northern Iraq that the overthrow of Premier Abdul Karim Kassem Feb. 8 was the direct result of the 18-month Kurdish war against the Baghdad regime.

"A similar, if not worse, fate will befall anyone who opposes the establishment of an autonomous Kurdish regime," said the Moscow-educated leader.

Barzani, 60, said he ordered a cease-fire when Kassem was overthrown and killed, in order to give the new Baghdad government a chance to declare its intentions on the Kurdish issue.

"I gave them 10 days. Those days are over. I am not prepared to wait indefinitely," said Barzani, fondling a long Kurdish dagger.

Barzani expressed impatience over the delay in getting word from his special emissary, Jalal Talibani who went to Baghdad last week to negotiate with leaders of the new government.

(Talibani said in Baghdad Thursday that he was hopeful that an agreement with the new government will be reached "within this week.")

AMA Backs JFK's Mental Health Plan

CHICAGO (AP)—The American Medical Association, which is firmly opposed to President Kennedy's proposed medical program for the elderly, spoke approvingly today of his mental health program.

The spokesman in this instance is Dr. Gerald D. Dorman of New York, an AMA trustee. His forum was the annual conference of State Mental Health Representatives.

Dr. Dorman said the Kennedy mental health program, announced Feb. 5, agrees with basic recommendations made by the AMA last summer.

He said both programs stress comprehensive care of mental patients at the community level rather than in big, distant state institutions.

"Community centers will supply what has been a missing link in the physician's responsibility for patients with emotional disorders," Dr. Dorman said.

Both the Kennedy administration and AMA proposals call for matching grants to the states from the federal government for building community mental health facilities.

Dr. Dorman said President Kennedy also proposes that services at the community centers be financed in the same manner as other medical and hospital costs—individual fees, private insurance, voluntary contributions and state and local aid.

Ohio Solon Raps Kentucky Project

WASHINGTON (AP)—The proposed Devil's Jump Dam ran into stiff opposition from a member of a House public works subcommittee Thursday and drew strong support from a large delegation from Kentucky.

Rep. William H. Harsha, R-Ohio, member of the flood control subcommittee considering the Kentucky-Tennessee project, contended it would cost much more than the $151 million estimated by Army Engineers.

Harsha then quoted the administrator of the Southeastern Power Administration as having testified two years ago that his agency knew little about the future power markets for the project. The marketing area would include Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, Illinois and possibly Pennsylvania, Harsha said.

deficiency appropriation." He estimated the cutbacks will mean a reduction of about $2.5 million in public assistance costs to the state between now and July 1, the end of the current fiscal year. The 10 per cent reduction in poor relief matching will mean about $500,000 a month, he said.

And in the meantime, Donald D. Cook director of the Ohio Department of Liquor Control, made a move today to crack down on distiller representatives doing business with the department.

He advised the representatives that they "are not to give any gratuities of any description to any employee of the department of liquor control," and that this would include distilled spirits, lunches, dinners, social events, tickets to athletic contests, etc.

Cook said the representatives had also been advised:

That any violation of the order will result in the dismissal of the department employee who accepts such gratuities and will result in the delisting of any company that so violates the rule.

That the representatives are not to roam through the department buildings and contact divisions "promiscuously," but that if they have business with any division they are to contact the supervisor.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Today is Friday, March 1, the 60th day of 1963. There are 305 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this day in 1954, history's second hydrogen-fusion test took place in the Marshall Islands. The explosion by the United States was 600 to 700 times greater than the atomic bomb which killed 60,000 persons in Hiroshima and hastened the end of World War II.

On this day: In 1780, the Pennsylvania Legislature passed the first act to abolish slavery.

In 1867, the U. S. Army's Hospital Corps was organized.

In 1932, Charles Lindbergh Jr. was kidnapped from his parents' home at Hopewell, N.J.

In 1945, American troops captured the two German industrial cities of Muenchen-Gladbach and Reydt during World War II.

In 1952, the North Sea island of Helgoland was returned to Germany which had surrendered it to the Allies in 1945.

Today's birthday: Austrian painter Oskar Kokoschka is 77. Theatrical producer Herman Levin is 55.

Thought for today: All human things are subject to decay, and, when fate summons, monarchs must obey—John Dryden.

Banks Superintendent Denied Unusual Leave

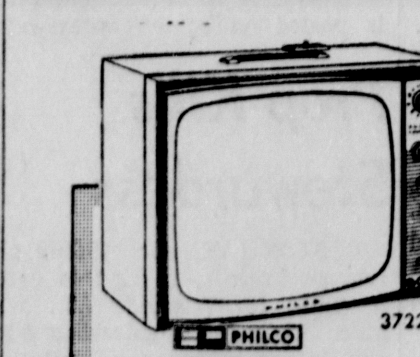

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The superintendent of banks is a state officer, not a state employee, and is not entitled to compensation for earned, but unused vacation leave, Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe said in an opinion given today at the request of Commerce Director Warren R. Chase.

In the same opinion, Saxbe ruled that the chief of the Division of Securities and the superintendent of building and loan associations are state employees and are entitled to such compensation.

Ex-PUCO Aide Handed Suspended Sentence

MARION, Ohio (AP)—A former investigator for the Public Utilities Commission has received a six months suspended prison sentence and $1,000 fine for defrauding the General Telephone Co.

Charles F. Parshall, 55, of Marion was accused on 16 counts of using non-existent credit card numbers in making long distance calls. The telephone company said this was the first such prosecution under a law which became effective in September 1961.

Store Sales In Cleveland Continue Dip

CLEVELAND (AP)—Department store sales in Cleveland the past two months have slumped below the corresponding year-ago level.

The Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland reported today that sales for the week ended Feb. 23 were 21.1 below the similar 1962 period and the lowest so far this year. Four-week volume was off 13.4 per cent from a year ago and sales for the year to date were behind 10.9 per cent.

A bank economist attributed the lagging sales to the newspaper strike—now in its 92nd day—and a long siege of bad weather.

Sales declines also were noted last week in the metropolitan area, which includes Lake and Cuyahoga counties. Sales were reported 8.8 per cent below the similar year-ago period, but four-week volume equaled last year's figures.

Ohio below Par On Education Investments

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio ranks slightly below the national average in personal income spent for public education, according to a survey report issued by the National Education Association.

The report, compiled by the NEA research division, shows that Ohio, with $422.45 spent on current expenditures for each pupil in average daily attendance in elementary and secondary schools, or 4.5 per cent of $9.345 in personal income for every school-age child, is just under the 4.7 per cent national average.

In personal income per school-age child, Ohio ranks 14th, while in expenditures per pupil, the state is 22nd in the nation.

New York ranks first in both personal income per pupil and money spent per school-age child. Next in line ahead of Ohio in personal income per student are Nevada, Connecticut, Delaware, New Jersey, California, Illinois, Massachusetts, Alaska, Rhode Island, Maryland, Missouri, Pennsylvania, Colorado and Washington.

Leading Ohio in expenditures per school-age child, in addition to New York, are the above-mentioned states except Missouri, Arizona, Wisconsin, Wyoming, Minnesota and Montana.

Ed Towler, Mt. Sterling, reported to the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department that a water pump had been stolen from the basement of his house.

The residence, presently in the process of being remodeled, was fully enclosed and locked, Towler told Deputy Warren Straley. Carpenter tools on the first floor were not taken.

Electric Blanket Blamed for Fire

The Mt. Sterling Fire Department doused a minor blaze yesterday in the home of Virgil Boyse, Route 3, Mt. Sterling.

The fire started in a bed and was thought to have been caused by a defective electric blanket. Damage was estimated at $100.

Deputy George Linder investigated for the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department.

Deaths

MR. MILTON A. LEIST

Mr. Milton A. Leist, 81, died 4:40 a. m. today at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Mark DeLong, 662 E. Mound St.

He was born May 26, 1881, in Pickaway County, the son of Sylvester and Clara Leist.

Mr. Leist, a retired farmer, was preceded in death by his wife, Stella Heffner Leist, Oct. 19, 1945.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Mark DeLong; Mrs. Irvin Reid, 827 Pershing Drive; Mrs. Pearl DeLong, Lancaster; seven grandchildren; and 12 great-grandchildren.

Services will be 1:30 p. m. Monday at the Deffenbaugh Funeral Home with the Rev. G. H. Niswender officiating. Burial will be in Forest Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home beginning 9 a. m. Sunday.

MRS. GOLDIE W. NEFF

Mrs. Goldie Wilkinson Neff, 47, a former resident of Circleville, died early today in University Hospital, Columbus, after a lengthy illness.

Mrs. Neff was born in Circleville Sept. 23, 1915, the daughter of William and Bertha Wilkinson.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Barbara Doersam, with whom she made her residence and Mrs. Beverly Doten, both of Columbus; four brothers, Robert Wilkinson, Sr., 576 E. Main St.; William, 209 N. Pickaway St.; Lyman, E. Main St.; and Lyman, Denver, Colo.

Funeral arrangements are being completed by the Evans Funeral Home, Livingston Ave., Columbus.

Ohio Assembly Takes Break For Weekend

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio legislators adjourned late Thursday for a three-day weekend break, but not before tossing a dozen additional bills into the hopper and voting passage of five routine measures.

Proposed legislation would allow public employees to organize and bargain collectively, boost the pay of elected county officials, reorganize three divisions in the Agriculture Department and expand Wildlife Council control of commercial fishing.

A sixth appointment to the Ohio Higher Education Assistance Commission, which guarantees student loans made by banks, was confirmed by the Senate. Newest appointee is Wayne B. Brewer of Findlay, president of Cooper Tire and Rubber Co.

The commission, dormant since the Senate last month rejected former administration appointments, was scheduled to meet today. While active, the commission had guaranteed more than 1,700 loans exceeding $1 million.

Ex-Indiana Chief Due To Address Ohioans

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Harold W. Handley, former governor of Indiana, is scheduled to be among speakers next Thursday at the Ohio Chamber of Commerce's biennial legislative conference.

The program also includes a dinner Wednesday night for members of the 106th General Assembly and a discussion of pending legislative measures affecting Ohio's business climate.

Columbus Man Convicted on OMVI Charge

Clyde J. Smith, 29, Columbus, convicted of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicants by Circleville Municipal Court Judge Sterling Lamb, today was fined $200 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail.

Judge Lamb also suspended Smith's driving license for a six-month period. He was cited into court by the State Highway Patrol.

Of the eight motorists cited into court by the OSP for speeding 65 miles per hour in a 50 mile zone, six signed waivers and paid $15 fines levied and two forfeited $24 bonds.

Roy E. Dunaway 32, Wellington and Lynn F. Baum, 21, Canal Winchester forfeited bonds.

Paying fines were: Richard J. Newlin, 34, Columbus; Alvin N. Price, Chillicothe; Robert A. Oney, 29, Jackson; Bernadine Minshall, 56, 934 S. Pickaway St.; David C. Shaffer, 24, Columbus; Ivan G. Kimery, 30, Taylor, Mich.

Stocks Show Firmer Tone

NEW YORK (AP)—Stock market prices showed a firmer tone early this afternoon after two days of sizable losses.

Gains and losses of key issues were generally fractional. Brokers said there was no one thing to blame for the market's generally unsatisfactory performance this week.

Some Wall Streeters believed the market had finally entered a period of consolidation after its extended advance.

Motors, steels, metals and rails were higher. Utilities, oils and airlines were mixed.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was ahead .2 at 252.1 with industrials up .8, rails unchanged and utilities off .1.

There was little in the business news to nudge prices either way.

RFK Disavows Eye On '68 Presidency

WASHINGTON (AP)—Robert F. Kennedy looked out the window of his chauffeur-driven limousine and said he does not plan to run for president in 1968.

"Emphatically not," he said. In his voice was a note of plainness, a plea that his answer be believed.

There was also the shrug of resignation from a man who, as attorney general and brother of the President, knows every word he utters for public print will be closely examined — by political opponents for campaign ammunition, by foreign diplomats for a hint of what the administration is really thinking, and by reporters who consider him the most valuable news source outside the White House itself.

This interview, held during a ride from a hotel speaking engagement to his Justice Department office was one of a recent series given by the attorney general to The Associated Press in an attempt to answer these questions:

1. Is he being groomed to assume the presidency when John F. Kennedy leaves office?

2. How true are current Washington rumors that, in preparation for a run at the presidency, he will be named secretary of state, with Dean Rusk leaving that post to become ambassador to the United Nations and Adlai E. Stevenson being eased out of the administration?

3. How does he define the unusual role he plays in government affairs?

In brief, these are Robert Kennedy's answers:

1. The presidency: "Absolutely no I don't even think about being president. I know that may sound funny to some people, but that's the truth."

2. Secretary of state: "Completely ridiculous and untrue."

3. His role: "I try to do the best job I can running the Department of Justice as attorney general. It's a very important job. Sure, the President gets my advice on matters outside the department, just as he does from lots of others. But he weighs it, and then makes the decisions himself."

Kennedy and his closely knit group of associates in the Justice

Department sometimes seem impatiently mystified by suggestion that he has any political ambition at all.

"I'm out of politics," he still says, as he did shortly before he became attorney general.

The recent (Esquire) magazine article by Gore Vidal—in which Robert Kennedy was tabbed as the likeliest Democratic presidential candidate in 1968 and was described as possessing "vindictiveness and a simplemindedness about human motives"—has become a subject of good-natured ribbing among the attorney general's associates.

To them he is a basically shy, soft-spoken individual, informal but courteous in human relationships, often exuberantly funny but usually solemn under the weight of heavy responsibility.

Besides his unofficial role as closest confidant to the President and his official post as attorney general, he wears more hats than any other man in the government.

He is a member of the National Security Council, chairman of the President's Committee on Juvenile Delinquency and Youth Crime, head of the White House Conference on Narcotics and Drug Abuse, and chairman of the President's Special Study Group on Counter-Insurgency.

And if that isn't enough to keep him busy, of course, there are the weekend hikes, skating parties, and other forms of relaxation to fill the spare time of a working man with a wife, seven children and another on the way.

Pickaway Twp. Sixth Grade Studies Poetry

It may be consoling to many adults, who feel they can't keep up with this new and changing generation, that in poetry they seem to have likes quite similar to those of their parents. That they do enjoy poetry too, is indicated by examination of booklets on poetry prepared by members of Mrs. Mildred Maxwell's sixth grade at Pickaway Twp. School.

For several weeks the members of the class have been studying poems, copying their favorites, learning at least one poem, working on choral speaking and writing their own limericks.

On Valentine's Day the class entertained the fourth grade by reciting the poems they had learned, some were in costume. They also did some skits and two choral poems with every member of the class participating. Some of the poems recited were "Casey at the Bat," by Ernest Lawrence Taylor; "The Swing" and "My Shadow" by Robert Louis Stevenson and Longfellow's "The Children's Hour."

In preparing their project the class concentrated on "Mood" to the extent that each was asked to write a paragraph on this subject as an introduction to his booklet. Typical of many in the class was Stephen Swank who wrote, "I get bored because I play the same thing every day, I get tired and don't know what to do." Lloyd Crosby was a boy with a problem. He wrote under the title "Mood", "Our television set was in the repair shop. It was a terrible day, all we could do was to sit! sit! sit! I went outside. It was terrible too. I hope your television doesn't break down."

The class has practiced choral speaking and each student has one poem of this type in his booklet. Among the favorite poems copied by the group are those which appear frequently, Joyce Kilmer's "Trees", Eugene Field's "Little Boy Blue" and Ella Higginson's "Four Leaf Clover." One student, Mary Johnson has illustrated her copy of "Trees."

A favorite of the limericks written by the class was Stephen Trochler's:

"There once was a woman of Baal
For she was caught in a gale
She lost her hat
And hit a man with a bat
And then she went to jail."

Students Hear Concert Band From Capital

The Concert Band of Capital University recently presented an hour-long concert at a student assembly in the high school gym. Director of the band was Prof. Wilbur E. Crist.

Harp soloist was Sandra Smith, a junior in the bachelor of arts curriculum from Abington, Pa. Gary Bailes, a senior in the music education curriculum from Lancaster, was cornet soloist.

A featured part of the concert was a brass-wind quintet playing music especially arranged by Nicholas Perrini, Capital University French Horn Instructor.

All students of the eighth grade and high school were able to attend the concert, as were pupils who are studying instruments in the various grade schools of the city.

The concert was arranged by Truman Eberly, high school music director, and Richard Snuffer, principal of the high school.

American women are beneficiaries of 80 per cent of all life insurance policies, the National Consumer Finance Association reports.

French Police Grab Another Terrorist Chief

PARIS (AP) — Police reported here they had seized another leader of the terrorist Secret Army Organization, Georges Buscia, and eight of his underlings. They said the group had been assigned the mission of assassinating Premier Georges Pompidou and several other French officials.

Police claimed that Buscia and his unit were to have slain Pompidou in a small village near Paris last summer. They said the unit got its orders from Secret Army leaders in Belgium but that Belgian authorities uncovered the assassination plans and turned them over to the French.

Buscia and the others were picked up in Paris over the weekend, before the arrest of ex-Col. Antoine Argoud, described as a director of the Secret Army operations outside France.

Buscia a former navy lieutenant, is little known publicly, but French authorities said he is an assistant to fugitive Rene Sergeant, frequently called the main Secret Army leader inside France.

Police said they found him and his associates in a Paris apartment along with eight submachine guns, pistols, grenades, ammunition and military uniforms.

Buscia and his followers, including two army lieutenants, a soldier and a sailor, were being held without charge while evidence is being studied.

Meanwhile, Argoud said in a statement that the Secret Army planned to bring President Charles de Gaulle to trial some day but denied he knew of any plans to assassinate the president.

The statement was made to a judge of the military court trying 15 Frenchmen accused of attempting to assassinate De Gaulle with machine guns last August.

Argoud said that ex-Premier Georges Bidault is head of the underground National Council of Resistance, the political army of the Secret Army.

The council was formed originally to fight De Gaulle's policy of independence for Algeria, but it still carries on the campaign against him. Bidault is believed to be somewhere outside France.

Argoud, 47, was found Tuesday trussed up in a truck outside Notre Dame Cathedral. Police said an anonymous caller told them the Secret Army was turning him in because he had botched the assassination attempt against De Gaulle.

Argoud told a magistrate on Wednesday he had been beaten and kidnapped Monday night from a hotel in Munich, Germany by two men.

Construction Worker's Death Is Being Probed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A coroner's verdict is awaited in the death Thursday night of Paul L. Stewart, 62-year-old construction equipment dealer. Stewart's body was found inside his car which was parked inside a closed garage.

Authorities attributed the death to carbon monoxide poisoning.

Dems Claim JFK Liaison Is Faulty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some key Democrats in Congress believe President Kennedy's legislative program would have fared better in the past two years if some of his liaison men had operated more adroitly.

These Democrats are looking for more discreet teamwork in the 88th Congress, and point to one smashing party victory already achieved to demonstrate the value of a more deft operation.

In every administration it's the job of liaison men from the White House and the executive agencies to try to get the Senate and House to pass bills recommended by the President.

As for the outcome in the 87th Congress, which ended last fall, some party leaders are convinced the performance of the Kennedy liaison team was far from polished.

They think the situation may be improving. For example, the White House Team was a unobtrusive as the House Democratic leadership won enlargement of the key House Rules Committee on the opening day of the 88th Congress. The victory margin was much bigger than it was on the same issue two years earlier.

There were no White House troubleshooters in evidence at the Capitol when this year's vote was taken. Any string-pulling was done backstage, discreetly.

While refraining from public criticism of the White House some Democratic congressional leaders in 1961-62 privately resented what they felt was too much intervention in legislative affairs by executive department experts.

The ill feeling that had been brewing boiled over last June 21 when the House leadership with some misgivings, brought to a vote a new farm bill backed by the administration.

When the day ended the bill had been killed by a vote of 215 to 205. The defeat was not engineered by the usual coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats. About 15 of the 48 Democrats who kicked over the traces normally support the administration.

While the farm bill was under consideration in the House, the corridors outside the chamber were crowded at times with executive branch representatives. Among them were Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman and Lawrence F. O'Brien, special assistant to the President. O'Brien, Kennedy's No. 1 congressional troubleshooter, used a nearby House reception room as temporary headquarters.

While O'Brien is credited by most Democrats with finesse and discretion some of the others who engaged in the farm bill jockeying were reported to have been less diplomatic.

Members complained of being called off the House floor and being told, either directly or indirectly, how they should vote.

After the farm bill upset, the President fared somewhat better, a fact attributed by some leaders to a White House decision to let the congressional pros call the shots without backseat driving by the executive departments.

As a result, Congress pushed along some major recommendations of the President, including some which had not appeared to have much chance. There were compromises here and there, usually with administration approval, but always engineered by the congressional leaders.

TEACHER IS 'QUEEN FOR A DAY' — Mrs. Leora Sayre, teacher at the Pickaway County School for Exceptional (Retarded) Children, was crowned "queen for a day" Wednesday by the 24 students of the school's two classes. The occasion was Mrs. Sayre's birthday and the students wanted to help her celebrate. Mrs. Fannie Brooks, teacher of the younger group of children, directed party arrangements, complete with refreshments and a "crown" for the queen. School officials are planning an open house and visitors' day in the near future. (Staff Photo)

PREHISTORIC MONSTERS — Fourth grade students of Mrs. Beatrice Kiefer, Corwin Elementary, recently completed a unit on fossils and as an extra project made models of prehistoric monsters. The students are displaying their models in a showcase in the main corridor of the building. Shown here ready to display their projects are Darlene Isaac, Rodney Kasler and Ricky Stout. ## TV Senior Is FHA Selection

Larry Leist, a senior at Teays Valley High School, was chosen by the FHA girls as their sweetheart for the year 1962-63.

Honoring Larry, a Sweetheart Dance was enjoyed by all the members of the organization and their dates in the school cafeteria.

Hi-Y Members Attend YMCA Dinner-Meet

Ten members of the Circleville High School Hi-Y Club attended the annual meeting and 39th anniversary recently of the Town and Country Branch of the Young Men's Christian Assn. in Columbus.

The dinner-meeting was held in the auditorium of the Central Branch YMCA building. Following the dinner, recognition was given to advisers of several junior and senior Hi-Y clubs and to Tri-H-Y advisers.

CHS members attending included Carl Zehner, Bruce Lindsay, Paul Smith, Dave Thomas, John Wardell, Larry Lane, Mike O'Donnell, Kenneth Robbins, William Clifton, Granville Jones and the club adviser, Robert Wellington.

on Valentine's Day. Larry was presented with a special pin by the president, Kathy Gray.

The junior and senior girls planned and served the refreshments and the sophomore and freshmen girls did the decorating, entertaining and cleaning up after the dance.

Judy Dean, Candy Miller and Cheryl Webster are the three voting delegates from the Teays Valley High School Chapter to the 1963 State Convention of the FHA in Columbus on March 15 and 16 at Mershon Auditorium on the Ohio State University campus.

The theme for the meeting will be "Values — A Measure of What We Treasure." On Friday, March 15, parents and friends of Ohio Future Homemakers are invited to attend the program at Mershon Auditorium.

Election and installation of the 1963-64 state officers will be held the second day of the convention. The girls will be accompanied to Columbus by their advisers, Mrs. H. W. Barrett and Mrs. Dick Tootle.

Pickaway Twp. Sixth Grade Studies Poetry

It may be consoling to many adults, who feel they can't keep up with this new and changing generation, that in poetry they seem to have likes quite similar to those of their parents. That they do enjoy poetry too, is indicated by examination of booklets on poetry prepared by members of Mrs. Mildred Maxwell's sixth grade at Pickaway Twp. School.

For several weeks the members of the class have been studying poems, copying their favorites, learning at least one poem, working on choral speaking and writing their own limericks.

On Valentine's Day the class entertained the fourth grade by reciting the poems they had learned, some were in costume. They also did some skits and two choral poems with every member of the class participating. Some of the poems recited were "Casey at the Bat", by Ernest Lawrence Taylor; "The Swing" and "My Shadow" by Robert Louis Stevenson and Longfellow's "The Children's Hour."

In preparing their project the class concentrated on "Mood" to the extent that each was asked to write a paragraph on this subject as an introduction to his booklet. Typical of many in the class was Stephen Swank who wrote, "I get bored because I play the same thing every day, I get tired and don't know what to do." Lloyd Crosby was a boy with a problem. He wrote under the title "Mood", "Our television set was in the repair shop. It was a terrible day, all we could do was to sit! sit! sit! I went outside. It was terrible too. I hope your television doesn't break down."

The class has practiced choral speaking and each student has one poem of this type in his booklet. ## Dropouts Anonymous

A club called "Dropouts Anonymous" has been formed in Galveston, Texas, and those who are tempted to make fun of it or draw conclusions should remember the success Alcoholics Anonymous has had in another field.

The club was started about a year ago with the financial help of two interested citizens. It has a small membership and ages range from 16 to 24. Included are two unwed mothers, three former dope takers, two boys with jail terms in their backgrounds and other delinquents.

The youngsters themselves conduct the meetings which consist of discussions of problems. Often other youths are invited to attend, youths who have problems too but have decided to stay in school despite them.

No pressure is exerted on anybody to return to school or take a job, but several have. Most soon realize the advantages of either continuing their schooling or taking special training to fit them for jobs.

Discussions are not always harmonious and sometimes youngsters walk out in a huff, but they usually return. They find the club (it is in a private building with a record player and soft drinks) a place where they can associate with other youngsters with similar problems.

Is this an idea that could be tried elsewhere? Perhaps. But at least for a group of young people in Galveston it seems to be helping—not by government grants or official authority, but by "kids helping other kids."

Space Exploits for Safety

From time to time sincere Americans raise their voices in doubt about the U. S. effort to explore and exploit outer space through projects such as moon-landings and satellites. "Why do we want to venture into space when there is so much to do on earth?" is a common question.

Often these doubts are answered in rather vague, even esoteric terms. "Because it's there . . . because men always have been curious about the unknown . . . because we must do it first for national prestige."

These reasons are acceptable to scientists and political leaders, but they are not very meaningful to average Americans. The latter need more explicit explanations why the U. S. should spend $5 billion next year for space efforts.

A few days ago, Gen. Curtis LeMay, chief of staff for the Air Force, provided an explanation, though he couldn't spell out its details because of military secrecy. He said:

"Future space developments could threaten us with even greater dangers (than existing intercontinental missiles). No nation can afford to allow an enemy one-sided exploitation of space, or any other medium for communications and observation in warfare. The threats from space are perhaps most profound and most deadly in those aspects which cannot yet be described.

"For our own safety we must take the lead and remain in the forefront of whatever developments may come. Otherwise, some dark day could witness the space equivalent of the nuclear bomber, except that the target could be in our own country."

This Americans understand. They have seen three wars begin and involve the U. S. at least partly because the country was not prepared. Closing the eyes to a danger this time might mean the end of either freedom or existence.

Something Nasty Going On

By John Chamberlain

Reading through a mass of manuscripts last week as one of the judges for sports editor Irving Marsh's annual selection of the "Best Sports Stories of the Year," I was struck by a single ugly theme that kept recurring. The theme was that of the growth of a shameless spirit of savagery in our sports contests.

It wasn't merely a matter of the prizefight game, though there were a number of stories on the merciless clobbering that resulted in the death of the Cuban boxer, Benny Paret. The growth of a vicious, calculated spirit of savagery, often with intent to maim, evidently is being extended to baseball, the race track, and even to college football. For the first time in years certain of the stories submitted in Mr. Marsh's contest made for some disheartening and dismaying reading.

The evidence of collegiate football mayhem involving boys who are supposed to play for the fun of the game was probably the most frightening thing to contemplate. Some of the coaches complain about the growth of the "hard-nosed" spirit in football, but there are others, apparently, who deliberately encourage it. The result is the tackle deliberately intended not merely to bring the ball carrier down but to maim him and put him out of the game. Films of games have shown tacklers senselessly veering off course to land on ball carriers who are already lying flat on their backs out of bounds, sometimes with an elbow being planted in the relaxed carriers face with force enough to shatter the cheekbone.

The growth of such wholly unnecessary tackling, though it is excused by coaches as the product of "over-excitement," has been too steady to be regarded as accidental. Obviously it is the result of "hard-nosed" doctrine which does not frown upon the use of such tactics as the "bull block," the trade name for using the new plastic helmet as a battering ram.

In professional baseball the spirit of savagery is evidently being cultivated by managers and even club owners who know that the way to pull down a front-running winner is to maim a couple of stars. The "duster derby" has, according to some umpires, become a common thing, with the managers of two feuding teams instructing pitchers to become "head-hunters" as a matter of deliberate policy. First baseman Ernie Banks of Chicago has openly accused the San Francisco Giants of attempting to put him out of baseball for good. Players speak of the "shooting gallery era" in baseball. The umpires, who know what is going on, slap $50 fines on recognized spot control pitchers who suddenly go wild and can't seem to put the ball any place but just in back of the batter's head.

As Dizzy Dean, the old-time St. Louis Cardinal pitcher, explains it, "the best beater is aimed like you lead a duck, only backward." The "duck" dives back, right into the pitcher.

The managers excuse themselves for ordering the bean ball on grounds that they must retaliate in order to "protect" their own players. But the "retaliation" never seems to end. Feuds are created, and one of these days a batter is going to be killed in spite of his protective helmet.

Among the race track stories submitted in Mr. Marsh's contest there was the one about the Panamanian jockey, Carlos Manuel de Ycaza. A polite, orderly fellow when he is not on a horse, Ycaza has been suspended for a total of 403 racing days since his track debut in 1955. Ycaza has gone down in several pile-ups that might have killed him or someone else, and has had suspensions for roughness that have cost him an estimated $150,000 in fees.

Roughness, of course, is a by-product of the will-to-win, which is not a deplorable thing in itself. But when a spirit of calculated ferocity that is careless of life and limb spreads from sport to sport, it may be evidence that something evil is happening to a whole civilization. The progressive brutalization of the sports world may be a reflex of a wider callousness, and hence not something that can be cured by delivering lectures to a few football coaches and baseball managers. But the sports stories make it plain that something nasty is going on, and it is time for a spirit of revulsion to take hold.

THE NOTED minister, Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, summers in Maine, and recalls a romantic interlude that occurred there a few years back. The local blacksmith, only five-feet-one for all his muscles of steel, fell in love with a girl who towered fully a foot above him. Diffident for months, he proposed marriage to her one night in a sudden burst of courage, and was promptly accepted. He climbed on top of his anvil and kissed the girl rapturously. Hours later, walking home through a pasture, he asked if he might kiss her again. "No," she decided. "Let's not overdo our sparking."

"Shucks," said the disappointed blacksmith. "If I can't kiss you no more, I might as well stop lugging this anvil."

How to get ahead in the Navy: The Secretary of the Navy was inspecting a recently launched carrier. The entire crew stood at attention. "I suppose," said the Secretary jokingly to the carrier's Captain, "you know the name of every man on the ship."

"I think I do," was the Captain's unexpected reply. "Aha," smiled the Secretary. "What's the name of the third man from the left there in the rear rank?"

"William Jones," said the Captain.

The Secretary addressed the seaman himself.

"What's your name, lad?" he asked.

"William Jones, Sir," replied Seaman Jonathan Abernathy.

Guide to Better Health

By HARRY J. JOHNSON, M.D.

I think a serious mental bloc with many persons is the habitual reference to the periodic health examination as a physical check-up or physical examination. You many have noticed how often I have stated it as "health examination." My choice of words is quite deliberate.

Perhaps the greatest single benefit of the health examination is the face-to-face consultation with the doctor. This is a counseling period that follows the physical procedure. It's your greatest opportunity to unburden yourself, to discuss every problem and every fear that may be on your mind. To have your normal sense of well being restored, even if nothing organically wrong has been uncovered, is no trifling matter.

The physical tests made during a health examination may range from something as simple as listening to your heart with a stethoscope to taking an electrocardiogram of your heart. There is really no standard ritual.

Any examination is better than none at all. It may be adequate for you to do nothing at all but talk with your doctor. On the other hand, there are physical routines that take days, many involving hospitalization and great cost, merely to provide the doctor with most—but still not all—of the indications needed to make an appraisal of your body.

We in medical practice have to be practical, as well as theoretical. We have to be reasonable. We have to set up certain procedures and techniques to do the most good for the greatest number in a manner that gives us some reasonable yardsticks or indicators of your health.

When it is possible and feasible to take more time to carry out additional physical tests, we will do it. That is why there are a growing number of medical clinics and group-practice headquarters set up to do virtually nothing but periodic health examinations involving physical procedures that may take several hours or an entire day.

Here, for example, is a typical procedure at Life Extension Examiners:

You begin with a physician who takes a record of your entire health history. Then he checks your height and weight.

He examines your eyes, ears, nose, throat, and thyroid gland. He records your pulse and blood pressure and listens to your heart action. He examines your abdomen, rectum, and prostate, and will look to see whether or not you have a hernia. A sample of your blood is taken for a count of red blood corpuscles and hemoglobin test and for the remote but possible existence of venereal disease. There is a complete urinalysis, an electrocardiogram, a lung test, and a chest X-ray.

During this time, if any doubtful symptoms are detected, two or more doctors may get together for a consultation. Finally, when all the data have been set down and the laboratory reports compiled, all of it becomes your case history and will be reviewed by the doctor. Then you are called in for a final consultation.

When all is said and done, you will have had an adequate and reasonable health examination.

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP)—Uncle Sam may have much stronger trade muscles than some doubters at home and abroad have been saying. The European Common Market's challenge has awed many. The farther-off threat of the Communist bloc impresses others.

Starting at a low base after World War II the industrial growth of these new boys on the block has been striking. It has been dramatized by the shrinking since 1957 of the U. S. gold reserves as foreigners turned in their once sought-after dollars for the metal. But the fears that Uncle Sam is in a dangerous situation may have been overdone, the National Bureau of Economic Research suggests today. The private nonprofit organization that studies and interprets economic facts says that today's problems are far from insoluble—and perhaps can be met without any extreme measures.

The study called "The United States as World Trader and Banker" notes that American exports have been growing faster than imports, making for a very healthy trade balance. (The study covers the last 10 years, rather than the last few months when the growth pattern was reversed, perhaps temporarily.)

Hal B. Lary, associate director of research of the bureau, feels many Americans have lost sight of this underlying trading strength in their fear that the U. S. competitive power was weakening. The fear was sharpened in 1960 and 1961 by the heavy outflow of liquid capital to prospering Europe where interest rates were higher, and by an erosion in the U. S. gold reserve.

But American exports continued to hold well above imports, giving this country a favorable trade balance the bureau figures at more than $7 billion a year of late, compared with $4 billion 10 years ago. The trouble has been that other outflow of dollars—military spending overseas, foreign aid, investments abroad, and the like—have grown, too, and still top the trade balance, so that we run a deficit in payments.

The bureau says this problem must be met, but it thinks the competitive strength of the United States can be increased by attention to its export potential. Some of the financial drain, such as the outflow of capital, may prove to be temporary and due to passing conditions.

At home the study suggests the aim should be "achieving greater freedom from external restraint in the pursuit of economic stability, long-term growth of output, and higher employment." It calls too pessimistic the view that these can't be achieved without damage to the dollar's foreign exchange value.

The problems are tough. But the study notes that in the last two years U. S. prices have been getting more competitive, helped by the fact that labor costs per unit of output have been fairly steady here since 1957 while they have been rising elsewhere.

Every Home Has Lack

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—A house is a place where you can count on it that you are sure to run out of something you need.

Every home, be it hovel or palace, has a lack.

The mountains of real loss that confront us sometime during our existence are inescapable. These we take with a gasp. The splendor of our ordinary is made extraordinary by a disappearance, and we close ranks and go on. That is all we can do. We accept the major inevitable.

But it is the minor inevitabilities that rub us raw, the small dooms that we feel we could have avoided by proper planning.

We live on the frontier of an amazing plenty, but it seems to be our fate that we always run short of essential items.

I don't know how your household is, but I'll tell you how my household is.

We don't miss mink coats, yachts and diamonds. These we can get along without tidily.

It is the things we can afford that we don't have.

For example, our home is chronically short of bathroom tissue, shoelaces, light bulbs, aspirin, soda water and canned chicken noodle soup.

Year after year I have had to face these shortages. We live across the street from a supermarket which stocks some 30,000 items.

Yet when a light bulb burns out we have none to replace it, there is never enough soda water in the refrigerator, and there is rarely a can of chicken noodle soup. On the other hand, half a dozen cans of beef and vegetable soup always adorn the shelves.

"I spent five years with the U. S. Army on three continents avoiding canned beef and vegetable stew," I frigidly inform my wife, Frances. "And I'd rather die now than eat a can of beef and vegetable soup."

"Oh go ahead and die then," she says placidly. "I'm on the way to the laundromat, and can't be bothered with you now."

Once I got so irritated over the problem of broken shoelaces that I bought a dozen black pairs. Sure enough, the very next morning I snapped a shoelace. It was brown.

One of these days I am going to go across the street and bring back 1,000 rolls of bathroom tissue, 875 light bulbs, 45 cases of soda water, 112 bottles of aspirin, and hundreds and hundreds of cans of chicken noodle soup.

One of these days...

Dropouts Anonymous

A club called "Dropouts Anonymous" has been formed in Galveston, Texas, and those who are tempted to make fun of it or draw conclusions should remember the success Alcoholics Anonymous has had in another field.

The club was started about a year ago with the financial help of two interested citizens. It has a small membership and ages range from 16 to 24. Included are two unwed mothers, three former dope takers, two boys with jail terms in their backgrounds and other delinquents.

The youngsters themselves conduct the meetings which consist of discussions of problems. Often other youths are invited to attend, youths who have problems too but have decided to stay in school despite them.

Space Exploits for Safety

From time to time sincere Americans raise their voices in doubt about the U. S. effort to explore and exploit outer space through projects such as moon-landings and satellites. "Why do we want to venture into space when there is so much to do on earth?" is a common question.

Often these doubts are answered in rather vague, even esoteric terms. "Because it's there . . . because men always have been curious about the unknown . . . because we must do it first for national prestige."

These reasons are acceptable to scientists and political leaders, but they are not very meaningful to average Americans. The latter need more explicit explanations why the U. S. should spend $5 billion next year for space efforts.

A few days ago, Gen. Curtis LeMay, chief of staff for the Air Force, provided an explanation, though he couldn't spell out its details because of military secrecy. He said:

Something Nasty Going On

Reading through a mass of manuscripts last week as one of the judges for sports editor Irving Marsh's annual selection of the "Best Sports Stories of the Year," I was struck by a single ugly theme that kept recurring. The theme was that of the growth of a shameless spirit of savagery in our sports contests.

It wasn't merely a matter of the prizefight game, though there were a number of stories on the merciless clobbering that resulted in the death of the Cuban boxer, Benny Paret. The growth of a vicious, calculated spirit of savagery, often with intent to maim, evidently is being extended to baseball, the race track, and even to college football. For the first time in years certain of the stories submitted in Mr. Marsh's contest made for some disheartening and dimming reading.

The evidence of collegiate football mayhem involving boys who are supposed to play for the fun of the game was probably the most frightening thing to contemplate. Some of the coaches complain about the growth of the "hard-nosed" spirit in football, but there are others, apparently, who deliberately encourage it. The result is the tackle deliberately intended not merely to bring

FOR MONTHS THE FIGAROWS WORKED AT MAKING THEIR OWN COSTUMES FOR THE CLUBS ANNUAL FANCY TWIST...

No pressure is exerted on anybody to return to school or take a job, but several have. Most soon realize the advantages of either continuing their schooling or taking special training to fit them for jobs.

Discussions are not always harmonious and sometimes youngsters walk out in a huff, but they usually return. They find the club (it is in a private building with a record player and soft drinks) a place where they can associate with other youngsters with similar problems.

Is this an idea that could be tried elsewhere? Perhaps. But at least for a group of young people in Galveston it seems to be helping—not by government grants or official authority, but by "kids helping other kids."

"Future space developments could threaten us with even greater dangers (than existing intercontinental missiles). No nation can afford to allow an enemy one-sided exploitation of space, or any other medium for communications and observation in warfare. The threats from space are perhaps most profound and most deadly in those aspects which cannot yet be described.

"For our own safety we must take the lead and remain in the forefront of whatever developments may come. Otherwise, some dark day could witness the space equivalent of the nuclear bomber, except that the target could be in our own country."

This Americans understand. They have seen three wars begin and involve the U. S. at least partly because the country was not prepared. Closing the eyes to a danger this time might mean the end of either freedom or existence.

Dear Abby: Rules of the Game

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have an aunt who is a 36-year-old perpetual husband-hunter. She saw a man who works with me. She liked his looks and asked me to introduce her to him. He said he was unmarried so I saw no harm in it. Well, he asked her for a date and she fell for him hard. She saw him night and day and even went on weekend trips with him. When she pressed for marriage, he told her he had a wife from whom he was only separated because his religion wouldn't sanction divorce. My aunt is broken-hearted and her whole family is blaming me for this mess. Was it MY fault?

GOOD INTENTIONS
DEAR GOOD: When a man tells you he is unmarried, you have a right to assume he is. You were responsible for introducing them, period. If a 36-year-old "husband-hunter" wants to play the game, it's time she learned the game laws.

DEAR ABBY: If your husband came home with the odor of perfume on his shoulder, which you have none of would you assume he had been close enough to someone to have had the odor rub off on him? Or would you say he had to have somebody's head in his shoulder?

READY TO FILE
DEAR READY: He could be in-

New York Post Breaks Ranks, Plans To Resume Publication

NEW YORK (AP) — Dorothy Schiff, publisher of the New York Post, has broken away from the publishers of the city's other major newspapers and announced that her afternoon tabloid will resume publication Monday.

Her decision leaves four newspapers shut down by a printers' strike and four others closed voluntarily.
Mrs. Schiff said Thursday "I think the strike has gone on long enough. I see no evidence in a settlement."

Mrs. Schiff, owner and editor-in-chief of the Post, and four other publishers shut down their papers when the printers struck against four dailies 84 days ago.

Talks in the contract dispute continue today with Mayor Robert F. Wagner serving as chief mediator.

The Publishers Association of New York City, which represents the major newspapers in dealings with craft unions, said in a statement that Mrs. Schiff's break "does not alter the firm determination of the other publishers in the association to continue to press for a satisfactory agreement to end the current strike."

Mrs. Schiff resigned from the association a short time before her announcement at a news conference.

Amory Bradford, vice president of the struck New York Times and chief negotiator for the publishers' association, said Mrs. Schiff's move was "a great mistake on her part, which is bound to stiffen the union's position and may well prolong the strike."

Elmer Brown, president of the AFL-CIO International Typographical Union, said "I'm very hopeful that this step will encourage others to do likewise."

Brown made the statement to newsmen as he arrived Thursday night. Wagner summoned him from the union headquarters at Colorado Springs, Colo., to participate in the resumed peace talks.

Bertram A. Powers, president of striking printers Local 6, stood beside Mrs. Schiff as she announced her intention to reopen the Post, founded in 1801 by Alexander Hamilton and the city's oldest continuously published newspaper.

When asked by a newsmen if he thought Mrs. Schiff's action would shorten the strike Powers said: "I certainly do. The other afternoon papers will not miss the fact that their competition is publishing."

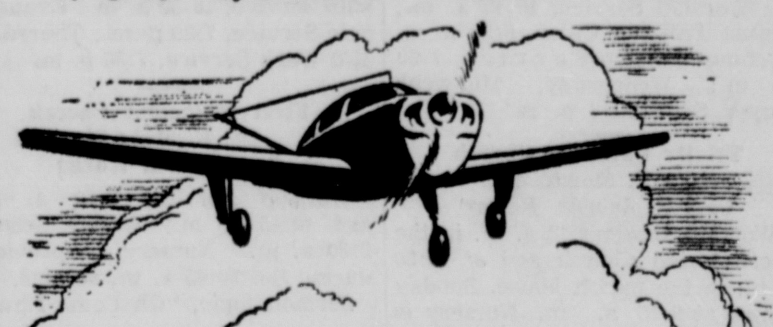

The two other afternoon newspapers announced they will stick with the publishers association in its stand toward the printers. These papers—the Journal-American and the World-Telegram-Sun—are struck.

International and New York City officials of the ITU met Thursday night. One said the purpose was to "reduce to an irreducible minimum" the demands the printer negotiators would present to the publishers today.

The strike by 3,000 printers has thrown 17,000 other newspaper employees out of their regular jobs.

Daytonian Convicted In Kentucky Slaying

SOMERSET, Ky. (AP) — An all-male jury has convicted a Dayton, Ohio, roofing contractor of a Christmas night, 1962, slaying.
The jury Thursday set punishment for Roy Gill, 27, at life imprisonment and Commonwealth's Atty. Russel Jones said he probably would be sentenced Saturday.
Gill was charged in the fatal shooting and beating of Murrell Trimble, a Somerset television repair man. The defense presented no witnesses, and Gill, and his wife, Barbara Jean, 25 refused to testify Jones said.

DEAR ABBY: If your husband came home with the odor of perfume on his shoulder, which you have none of would you assume he had been close enough to someone to have had the odor rub off on him? Or would you say he had to have somebody's head in his shoulder?

READY TO FILE
DEAR READY: He could be innocent. The head on YOUR shoulder is the one you have to worry about. Don't lose it.

DEAR ABBY: A couple of months ago I attended a big church wedding and reception. The bride wore a beautiful white gown and veil. Six months later the bride gave birth to a nine-pound baby boy, so I know she must have been expecting at the time of the wedding. They tell me that this is being done all the time. Is this true, or am I behind the times?

JOAN
DEAR JOAN: You are NOT behind the times. Some babies are ahead of their times.

DEAR ABBY: Apropos the woman who felt "unloved" because her husband never said "I love you" My sister and I recently asked mother to tell us about her courtship days, whether Dad was romantic, and how he proposed to her. She replied, "Your father never said much, and he never once came out said, 'I love you'. And this is how he proposed, 'Well, do you want to get married or don't you?'"

Maybe flowery speeches don't mean much, because Mom and Dad have been happily married for 38 years.

Baha'i Group Lists
Thought for Week
The following is from Baha'i teachings: "The Baha'i worships not the human personality of Baha'u'llah, but the glory of God manifest through that personality. He reverences Christ and Muhammad and all God's former messengers to mankind, but he recognizes Baha'u'llah as the bearer of God's message for the new age in which we live, as the great world-teacher who has come to carry on and consummate the work of his predecessors."
Rice, the staple of the Asian diet is the principal daily food for more of the world's peoples than any other food crop.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Baha'i Group Lists Thought for Week

The following is from Baha'i teachings: "The Baha'i worships not the human personality of Baha'u'llah, but the glory of God manifest through that personality. He reverences Christ and Muhammad and all God's former messengers to mankind, but he recognizes Baha'u'llah as the bearer of God's message for the new age in which we live, as the great world-teacher who has come to carry on and consummate the work of his predecessors."

Rice, the staple of the Asian diet is the principal daily food for more of the world's peoples than any other food crop.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Make Church - Going a Habit

STEAMIN'S TROPHIES — Mr. and Mrs. George Van Camp admire a few of the trophies Steamin' Demon, world champion double gaited harness horse, has won for them during his racing career. The lifetime earnings of this fine stallion total $242,486. Steamin' is presently retired from the raceways and is standing at stud at the Van Camp farm. (Photos by Beaver)

Beautiful Van Camp Farm Is Home of Famed World Champ

By STEVE JONES

Just North of Circleville on old Route 23 is a stately old brick farmstead on the east side of the road with three large new buildings and a private race track, all surrounded by brown creosoted board fences.

A sign visible both day and night identifies the farm as the home of Steamin' Demon, the world's champion double-gaited harness horse. For the uninitiated, Steamin' is owned by George W. Van Camp, as is the farm.

Van Camp purchased the 211-acre farm in recent years and is currently in the process of building one of the finest privately owned harness horse plants in central Ohio.

To date Van Camp estimates that he has spent more than $200,000 on the farm and improvements. "And I'm not through yet," says the owner of the Steamin'.

STEAMIN' DEMON owns records in both the trot and pace. The powerful stallion has trotted the mile in 1:59.1 and has paced the distance in 1:58.4. His lifetime earnings on the track total $242,486.

The Demon, a 10-year-old, is presently retired from the track and is standing at stud at the Van Camp farm. Last year, in the horse's first full year at stud, his owner reported 25 or more breeding services.

This year an estimated 41 or more mares will be serviced during the breeding season, extending from February through the first week of June. This number includes Van Camp's 21 brood mares.

The track and the buildings are not completed yet, and the stables are presently in training at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds. However, present plans call for the 20 plus horses being handled by Jack Betts, Van Camp's trainer and driver, to be moved to the farm the first of April.

Work is expected to be far enough advanced at that time to permit training of the standardbred horses there.

Although Van Camp plans to hold his own harness matinee in the future — possibly this spring — he will have several of his horses entered in the spring matinee at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds slated for April 21 this year. The matinee there is sponsored by the Pickaway County Agricultural Society.

VAN CAMP can always be counted on to place some fine animals in both the local matinee and the races held in conjunction with Pickaway County Fair.

The harness matinee was originated locally by the Circleville Junior Chamber of Commerce, but has been sponsored by the Agricultural Society for the past several years.

Top animals in the Van Camp string include Virgie's Worthy with a record of 2:06.1. Virgie's Worthy will be staked in the Harness Tracks of America Trot. One leg of the trot will be raced at Scioto Downs, Ohio's showplace of racing.

Another fine standardbred in the stables is I'm It, a pacer with a record of 1:59.4. Steamin' Vo is a real promising 3-year-old pacer in the racing string.

The largest horse barn at the farm, still under construction although nearly completed, is a mammoth 150-foot by 42 foot structure with 24 stables and two tack rooms.

Another new barn has seven stables and a combination office and barn has five stables.

THE OFFICE, which will serve as headquarters for Van Camp's road building business as well as the farming and harness horse operation, has a stone fireplace on one end.

Throughout the years horses owned by Van Camps have won many trophies for their owners.

Provisions have been made on the fireplace wall to display trophies Van Camp expects to win in the future.

The track is a one-half mile oval that is 60 feet wide on the home stretch and 40 feet wide in the back stretch. It is situated immediately south of the main house and buildings.

Van Camp estimates he has spent nearly $17,000 on fence alone at the farm. In connection with the farming a end of the operation there, he has recently completed a 5,000-bushel corn crib.

A full scale farm operation is conducted at the farm. This winter approximately 152 Hereford cattle were in Van Camp's barns at the peak of the feeding operation. The fertile farm is operated on a three-year rotation.

VAN CAMP does not live at the farm. The old brick farmstead has been remodeled and presently houses three apartments. Jack Betts, the trainer, occupies one of the apartments.

Two tenant houses on the farm were also remodeled. The harness horse operation is a family enterprise, with both Van Camp's wife, Virgie, and his son, T. D., very active in the business.

Jones Sets Pace For Piston Victory

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Willie Jones dribbled the length of the court three straight times for as many baskets in the last quarter and led the Detroit Pistons to a 112-104 victory over the Chicago Zephyrs.

The victory Thursday night put the Pistons two games ahead of the idle San Francisco Warriors in their battle for third and the last playoff spot in the Western Division of the National Basketball Association. Syracuse beat New York 132-124 in the other NBA game scheduled Thursday. Both were played as a doubleheader at Detroit.

Tiger Frosh Lose At Miami Trace

The Circleville freshman basketball team dropped its final game of the season, 35-31, at Miami Trace High School yesterday.

The young Tigers were down by four at the end of the first period and were never able to overcome the host team's lead.

At halftime the score was 14-10. The Little Panthers were on top 23-17 as the final period began.

Howard Dade paced the Circleville unit and gained game scoring laurels with an 18-point effort on six field goals and six charity tosses.

Dave Iery scored five markers and Roger Grigg and Bill Brock notched four each.

High for the losers was Andrews with 15.

Kansas City pitchers were hit for 199 home runs in 1962.

TV Educators Win March of Dimes Tourney

Logan Elm Edges
Circleville in
61-57 Preliminary

The Teays Valley tutors rolled to a third consecutive March of Dimes Faculty Tournament crown last night, posting a 63-41 win over the Westfall teachers in the Circleville gymnasium.

In the preliminary tilt Logan Elm staved off a last quarter rally by the Circleville educators to win 61-57.

Bill Salisbury's 18 points led the winning TV unit although he was tied for high game honors with Paul Hoskins who also had 18.

The championship tilt was close only at the end of the first quarter when Teays Valley led, 12-11. By halftime the victors had built a 35-23 margin over the Westfall instructors and as the final period started they were on top 54-32.

FOUR TV teachers finished in double figures. Benis Lutz notched 12, Charlie Baxter had 11 and Russ Gregg scored 10. For the Westfall unit Ned Reichelderfer tallied 12.

In the first game of the evening Logan Elm was on top 12-10, 28-24 and 46-37 at the intermission periods.

With two minutes to go the Circleville teachers pulled within two points but the LE team scored a game clinching basket late in the game. Keith Merrin and Roger Clark teamed for 39 points for the winners. Don Neff led Circleville with 15.

David Crawford, manager of the Faculty tournament, presented the championship trophy to Benis Lutz, Teays Valley High School Principal.

The Circleville Herald, Fri. March 1, 1963
Circleville, Ohio

Bradds, Bonham Both Thrilled By Elevation to All-America

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—They said a basketball era ended at Ohio State last year, but 6-foot-8 Gary Bradds has started another one and he has the nation's top cage laurels today to prove it.

The poker-faced understudy from the Greene County village of Jamestown not only picked up where three-time All-America Jerry Lucas left off but also owns Lucas' spot on the Associated Press All-America team.

"It's one of those things you dream about—I think any basketball player does, but I sure came as a surprise," the quiet giant said happily moments after being told he had made THE team.

"At the first of the season I didn't think I had a chance but lately—you know, you hear a lot of talk. But it really was a surprise."

Coach Fred Taylor, who is acquiring a reputation for developing All-Americans, broke the news to Bradds as he arrived at St. John Arena Thursday.

The announcement brought a big grin to Bradds' usually blank countenance. "When the coach called me in I thought 'Oh, oh. What'd I do now.'"

Taylor beamed like a proud father. "I said before the season, 'He's going to have to follow an awfully good act and I just hope he doesn't suffer by comparison.'"

Buckeye fans today aren't comparing Bradds with Lucas. It's more the other way around. The junior, one of three on the AP first team has already outscored Lucas for one season by piling up 586 points in 21 games for a 27.9 average. He also leads the Big Ten in scoring with a 32.2 average.

He leads the team in field goal percentage—something he also did last year—and is among the most deadly from the free throw line.

The Ohio State information booklet, published before the season started, said Bradds "must learn to place himself." The place was a fast one—from understudy to All-America.

Ron Bonham, Cincinnati's sharp shooter from Muncie, Ind., who was named Thursday to the Associated Press All-America basketball team, spent two or three days on the Purdue campus at Lafayette, Ind., just prior to the opening of school in 1960.

Then he decided to come to UC. He moved into a regular job with the Cincinnati varsity near mid-season of 1961-62 and has held it ever since. He helped the Bearcats win the NCAA championship last year and they're still in the running for the 1963 title.

"There was a lot of pressure on me to go to college in Indiana," said Bonham, a highly touted star at Muncie Central High School. "But really, all along I wanted to come here so I just decided to do it."

"I feel great," said Bonham Thursday of his selection to the All-America. "It's really a thrill." Bonham paid high tribute to his teammates.

"There are so many great play-

OSU's Jim Doughty May Miss Purdue Tilt
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Jim Doughty defensive sparkplug on the Ohio State basketball team, may miss the Bucks' Big Ten fray against Purdue here Saturday night.

Doughty, 6-foot-4 corner man and one of the team's best rebounders, is hospitalized with a strep throat and will not be released until Saturday morning. Coach Fred Taylor said that if Doughty does not play, he probably will go with Don DeVoe, a 6-5 junior.

Only 2 Indians Absent From Spring Workout

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—All but two Cleveland Indians were expected to be on hand for full-scale workouts starting today at the Tribe's training camp here.

Outfielder Willie Tasby still is unsigned, and pitcher Floyd Weaver is ill with the mumps at his Ben Franklin, Tex., home.

Tito Francona signed his contract Thursday for a reported $27,000, the same salary as last year, and went out on the field to work out for three hours.

UC also placed Tom Thacker on the second team, Tony Yates on the third team and George Wilson received honorable mention.

A sign visible both day and night identifies the farm as the home of Steamin' Demon, the world's champion double-gaited harness horse. For the uninitiated, Steamin' is owned by George W. Van Camp, as is the farm.

Van Camp purchased the 211-acre farm in recent years and is currently in the process of building one of the finest privately owned harness horse plants in central Ohio.

To date Van Camp estimates that he has spent more than $200,000 on the farm and improvements. "And I'm not through yet," says the owner of the Steamin'.

STEAMIN' DEMON owns records in both the trot and pace. The powerful stallion has trotted the mile in 1:59.1 and has paced the distance in 1:58.4. His lifetime earnings on the track total $242,486.

The Demon, a 10-year-old, is presently retired from the track and is standing at stud at the Van Camp farm. Last year, in the horse's first full year at stud, his owner reported 25 or more breeding services.

This year an estimated 41 or more mares will be serviced during the breeding season, extending from February through the first week of June. This number includes Van Camp's 21 brood mares.

The track and the buildings are not completed yet, and the stables are presently in training at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds. However, present plans call for the 20 plus horses being handled by Jack Betts, Van Camp's trainer and driver, to be moved to the farm the first of April.

Work is expected to be far enough advanced at that time to permit training of the standardbred horses there.

Although Van Camp plans to hold his own harness matinee in the future — possibly this spring — he will have several of his horses entered in the spring matinee at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds slated for April 21 this year. The matinee there is sponsored by the Pickaway County Agricultural Society.

VAN CAMP can always be counted on to place some fine animals in both the local matinee and the races held in conjunction with Pickaway County Fair.

The harness matinee was originated locally by the Circleville Junior Chamber of Commerce, but has been sponsored by the Agricultural Society for the past several years.

Top animals in the Van Camp string include Virgie's Worthy with a record of 2:06.1. Virgie's Worthy will be staked in the Harness Tracks of America Trot. One leg of the trot will be raced at Scioto Downs, Ohio's showplace of racing.

Another fine standardbred in the stables is I'm It, a pacer with a record of 1:59.4. Steamin' Vo is a real promising 3-year-old pacer in the racing string.

The largest horse barn at the farm, still under construction although nearly completed, is a mammoth 150-foot by 42 foot structure with 24 stables and two tack rooms.

Another new barn has seven stables and a combination office and barn has five stables.

THE OFFICE, which will serve as headquarters for Van Camp's road building business as well as the farming and harness horse operation, has a stone fireplace on one end.

Throughout the years horses owned by Van Camps have won many trophies for their owners.

Provisions have been made on the fireplace wall to display trophies Van Camp expects to win in the future.

The track is a one-half mile oval that is 60 feet wide on the home stretch and 40 feet wide in the back stretch. It is situated immediately south of the main house and buildings.

Van Camp estimates he has spent nearly $17,000 on fence alone at the farm. In connection with the farming end of the operation there, he has recently completed a 5,000-bushel corn crib.

A full scale farm operation is conducted at the farm. This winter approximately 152 Hereford cattle were in Van Camp's barns at the peak of the feeding operation. The fertile farm is operated on a three-year rotation.

VAN CAMP does not live at the farm. The old brick farmstead has been remodeled and presently houses three apartments. Jack Betts, the trainer, occupies one of the apartments.

Two tenant houses on the farm were also remodeled.

The harness horse operation is a family enterprise, with both Van Camp's wife, Virgie, and his son, T. D., very active in the business.

Jones Sets Pace For Piston Victory

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Willie Jones dribbled the length of the court three straight times for as many baskets in the last quarter and led the Detroit Pistons to a 112-104 victory over the Chicago Zephyrs.

The victory Thursday night put the Pistons two games ahead of the idle San Francisco Warriors in their battle for third and the last playoff spot in the Western Division of the National Basketball Association. Syracuse beat New York 132-124 in the other NBA game scheduled Thursday. Both were played as a doubleheader at Detroit.

Tiger Frosh Lose At Miami Trace

The Circleville freshman basketball team dropped its final game of the season, 35-31, at Miami Trace High School yesterday.

The young Tigers were down by four at the end of the first period and were never able to overcome the host team's lead.

At halftime the score was 14-10. The little Panthers were on top 23-17 as the final period began.

Howard Dade paced the Circleville unit and gained game scoring laurels with an 18-point effort on six field goals and six charity tosses.

Dave Iery scored five markers and Roger Grigg and Bill Brock notched four each.

High for the losers was Andrews with 15.

Kansas City pitchers were hit for 199 home runs in 1962.

TV Educators Win March of Dimes Tourney

Logan Elm Edges
Circleville in
61-57 Preliminary

The Teays Valley tutors rolled to a third consecutive March of Dimes Faculty Tournament crown last night, posting a 63-41 win over the Westfall teachers in the Circleville gymnasium.

In the preliminary tilt Logan Elm staged off a last quarter rally by the Circleville educators to win 61-57.

Bill Salisbury's 18 points led the winning TV unit although he was tied for high game honors with Paul Hoskins who also had 18.

The championship tilt was close only at the end of the first quarter when Teays Valley led, 12-11. By halftime the victors had built a 35-23 margin over the Westfall instructors and as the final period started they were on top 54-32.

FOUR TV teachers finished in double figures. Benis Lutz notched 12, Charlie Baxter had 11 and Russ Gregg scored 10. For the Westfall unit Ned Reichelderfer tallied 12.

In the first game of the evening Logan Elm was on top 12-10, 28-24 and 46-37 at the intermission periods.

With two minutes to go the Circleville teachers pulled within two points but the LE team scored a game clinching basket late in the game. Keith Merrin and Roger Clark teamed for 39 points for the winners. Don Neff led Circleville with 15.

David Crawford, manager of the Faculty tournament, presented the championship trophy to Benis Lutz, Teays Valley High School Principal.

Bradds, Bonham Both Thrilled By Elevation to All-America

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—They said a basketball era ended at Ohio State last year, but 6-foot-8 Gary Bradds has started another one and he has the nation's top cage laurels today to prove it.

The poker-faced understudy from the Greene County village of Jamestown not only picked up where three-time All-America Jerry Lucas left off but also owns Lucas' spot on the Associated Press All-America team.

"It's one of those things you dream about—I think any basketball player does, but it sure came as a surprise," the quiet giant said happily moments after being told he had made THE team.

"At the first of the season I didn't think I had a chance but lately—you know, you hear a lot of talk. But it really was a surprise."

Coach Fred Taylor, who is acquiring a reputation for developing All-Americans, broke the news to Bradds as he arrived at St. John Arena Thursday.

The announcement brought a big grin to Bradds' usually blank countenance. "When the coach called me in I thought 'Oh, oh. What'd I do now.'"

Taylor beamed like a proud father. "I said before the season, 'He's going to have to follow an awfully good act and I just hope he doesn't suffer by comparison.'"

Buckeye fans today aren't comparing Bradds with Lucas. It's more the other way around.

The junior, one of three on the AP first team has already outscored Lucas for one season by piling up 586 points in 21 games for a 27.9 average. He also leads the Big Ten in scoring with a 32.2 average.

He leads the team in field goal percentage—something he also did last year—and is among the most deadly from the free throw line.

The Ohio State information booklet, published before the season started, said Bradds "must learn to place himself." The place was a fast one—from understudy to All-America.

OSU's Jim Doughty May Miss Purdue Tilt

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Jim Doughty defensive sparkplug on the Ohio State basketball team, may miss the Bucks' Big Ten fray against Purdue here Saturday night.

Doughty, 6-foot-4 corner man and one of the team's best rebounders, is hospitalized with a strep throat and will not be released until Saturday morning. Coach Fred Taylor said that if Doughty does not play, he probably will go with Don DeVoe, a 6-5 junior.

Only 2 Indians Absent From Spring Workout

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—All but two Cleveland Indians were expected to be on hand for full-scale workouts starting today at the Tribe's training camp here.

Outfielder Willie Tasby still is unsigned, and pitcher Floyd Weaver is ill with the mumps at his Ben Franklin, Tex., home.

Tito Francona signed his contract Thursday for a reported $27,000, the same salary as last year, and went out on the field to work out for three hours.

ers they make you look good," he said.

UC also placed Tom Thacker on the second team, Tony Yates on the third team and George Wilson received honorable mention.

End to Arms Race Appears To Be Shelved

In mid-January there seemed to be no doubt that the United States and Britain on one hand and the Soviet Union on the other were closer to agreement on a nuclear test ban treaty with inspection safeguards than they had been at any time in the past. Today they seemed to be as far apart as ever.

The deadlock has developed, as the dispute now stands, over the difference between Khrushchev's two or three inspections a year and the eight or 10 which Kennedy has asked with an indication that he would reduce the number if other inspection problems were solved at the same time.

In a speech in Moscow Wednesday, Khrushchev slammed the door on any new concessions from his side saying "nothing else can be expected from us."

His statement came as no surprise because in talks in this country in late January and more recently at the 17-nation disarmament conference in Geneva his representatives had taken the same line.

Their unyielding stand was initially a surprise and disappointment to U.S. officials, however, because they had thought that his December policy reversal was the opening play in a new round of negotiations which Khrushchev himself wanted to be successful.

In Geneva last month, Hubert H. Humphrey, assistant Senate Democratic leader, said the negotiators should be close to agreement by April or the opportunity which he then thought existed for nailing down a test ban might well be lost.

At a news conference on Jan. 24 President Kennedy said he did not agree with the deadline concept but the world should know by spring whether an agreement could be reached.

In a few quick sentences Kennedy then went on to sketch both the basis of his policy for persisting in negotiations no matter how desperate the prospect and the problems which he foresees at home as well as in the discussion with the Soviet Union.

"We have been on this (seeking disarmament) for 15 years," he said. "I must say that a good many people are opposed to this effort which is being directed by Mr. (William C.) Foster in Geneva, and quite obviously it is a matter which we should approach with a good deal of care. But the alternative, if we fail, in increasing the number of nuclear powers around the world over the next 5, 10, 15, or 20 years is so dangerous (it) keeps me committed to the effort of trying to get a test ban treaty."

A few days later at a Feb. 1 news conference Secretary of State Dean Rusk recognized the progressive breakdown of test ban talks by saying, "We cannot hold out great expectations that this matter can be resolved promptly."

The inspection issue has been at the heart of the East-West disarmament problem since negotiations first started back in 1946. At that time, while it still had a nuclear weapons monopoly, the United States had put a plan before the United Nations for internationalizing all atomic power. The Soviet Union shortly produced a counter plan.

The two nations rejected each other's programs.

Since then disarmament has been involved periodically in what appeared to be serious negotiations and at times has served as a propaganda football.

In the situation which now confronts the United States on this issue the State Department disclosed Thursday that a new draft of a test ban treaty is being prepared for introduction at Geneva. It will embody various concessions on inspection which the United States says are justified by scientific advances in detection techniques.

The United States is prepared to rely more than in the past on national detection systems to prevent cheating but insists that some on-site inspections are necessary on Soviet territory. Kennedy also wants more automatic detection stations established inside the Soviet Union than Khrushchev has been willing to grant.

As he reduces inspection requirements, Kennedy increasingly faces a new problem with the Senate. Any treaty to outlaw testing would have to be submitted for Senate approval and at that time the President would have to justify in detail the safeguards which he had agreed to on the ground that they would make secret Soviet weapons testing virtually impossible.

That undoubtedly was what the President had in mind when he said that "a good many people" are opposed to Foster's efforts to work out an agreement with the Soviets. Apart from opposition based on the adequacy of inspection there would also be opposition based on the argument that continued testing is essential to discover atomic weapons presently undreamed of.

Kennedy therefore faces pressures and criticisms both from those who may argue he has not made enough concessions for an agreement with the Soviet Union and those who argue he is making too many.

His own determination to continue seeking an accord with security safeguards, however goomy the outlook, seems to be based on a conviction that he has no other choice.

City Judge Inspects Cincinnati Workhouse

CINCINNATI (AP)—Municipal Court Judge George Heitzler who said he felt he ought to know the pace he would be sending people to, took a tour of the Cincinnati Workhouse Thursday.

His verdict: "Like a medieval castle, but immaculately clean and warm."

The workhouse has been in the news lately because of an inmate's court battle to get out of solitary and another prisoner's complaint that he was beaten by guards.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

A mixture of snow, sleet, rain and freezing rain began over the southwest counties of Ohio Thursday night and spread rapidly to the central and northeast sections by daybreak today.

Early today amounts through the central counties ranged from one to three inches. Freezing rain was noted along the extreme south from Cincinnati to Marietta.

The snow through the central counties is expected to be mixed with sleet and freezing rain at times today and will change back to snow during the early afternoon. A temporary end of the snow and sleet will take place this evening, and a possibility of more of the same mixture is indicated for Saturday night.

Up to four inches of snow is indicated for the southern and central counties.

The snow is associated with a low pressure area moving eastward over Tennessee. The low is expected to move to the Middle Atlantic States early tonight.

Early today temperatures ranged from 19 at Cleveland to 41 at Chesapeake. Columbus had 30, Cincinnati 31 and Chesapeake 41.

OHIO FIVE DAYS FORECASTS

NORTHERN OHIO — Temperatures will average five to nine degrees below normal. Normal high 41, normal low 23-27. Colder about Monday, warmer Wednesday. Periods of light snow almost daily Saturday through Wednesday. Precipitation will total about one-fourth inch.

SOUTHERN & CENTRAL OHIO — Temperatures will average five to ten degrees below normal. Normal high 42-52, normal low 25-32. Minor changes except cooler about Sunday and near mid-week. Occasional rain or snow likely Saturday Monday or Tuesday. Precipitation will total about one-fourth to one-half inch.

Wagnalls Memorial To Present Film

Pentagon Seeks

the Red flights over the Forrester on Feb. 22 and over the nuclear-powered carrier Enterprise, the Kitty Hawk and the Princeton earlier showed them up as vulnerable.

Officers noted that the Forrester's departure from the Mediterranean for the United States had been announced. They said it was traveling the Great Circle route, a normal shipping lane; that it had no air patrols out, and that its heavy radio and radar output made it easy for the Soviets to home in.

In a war or emergency situation, the Navy said, none of these conditions would apply.

They did not make similar explanations for the flights over the Kitty Hawk in the North Pacific between Jan. 27 and Feb. 3, over the Enterprise in the North Atlantic on Feb. 12 and 13, and the Princeton in the North Pacific between Feb. 13 and 16.

McNamara replied with a terse "no" when asked whether there has been any Soviet reconnaissance over North America.

"None of the Soviet aircraft showed hostile intent," McNamara said of the four heavy "Bear" aircraft which came in over the Forrester in two waves.

The defense secretary said the four-engine, swept-wing Soviet planes were intercepted and tailed by U.S. Air Force jet fighters as they passed east of Iceland.

They were not challenged or attacked because they were reconnaissance versions, not rigged as bomb carriers, McNamara said.

Knowledgeable sources said the Soviet planes traveled about 3,500 miles each way to reach the Forrester.

McNamara said this country does not intend to ask the Soviet government why it engages in these overflights.

The incidents occurred in international waters, he observed, and "the Soviet aircraft had a legal right to be in the air over those waters."

3-Year Jail Term Is Given Union Official

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Three years in federal prison is the sentence handed to Richard T. Gosser, United Auto Workers Union vice president, and two other persons convicted of conspiracy in the removal of confidential files from the Internal Revenue Service offices.

Gosser, 62, his assistant, Donald Pincioti, 40, and Ted Maison, 40, were sentenced Thursday by U.S. District Court Judge Frank L. Kloeb.

Calling the verdict "absolutely correct," Judge Kloeb criticized Gosser's attitude on the witness stand, saying that in 25 years on the bench he had never seen such complete contempt as Gosser displayed toward the court.

The three were convicted Feb. 8 at the end of a nine-day jury trial. Government evidence presented at the trial was that an IRS secretary furnished copies of confidential reports concerning an investigation of Gosser's tax returns. The secretary passed the papers to Maison, identified by authorities as a numbers racket figure, who relayed them to Pincioti.

SUPER SPORTS—that's the only name for them! Four entirely different kinds of cars to choose from, including bucket-seat convertibles and coupes. And most every one can be matched with such sports-car type features* as 4-speed stick or Powerglide transmission, Positraction, tachometer, high performance engines, you name it. If you want your spice plus the luxuries of a full-sized family car, try the Chevrolet Impala SS. It's one of the smoothest road runners that ever teamed up with a pair of bucket seats. It even offers a new Comfortilt steering wheel* that positions right where you want it. The new Chevy II Nova SS has its own brand of excitement. Likewise the turbo-supercharged rear-engine Corvair Monza Spyder and the all-new Corvette Sting Rays. Just decide how sporty you want to get, then pick your equipment and power—up to 425 hp in the Chevrolet SS, including the popular Turbo-Fire 409* with 340 hp for smooth, responsive handling in city traffic.
